Philippines Calls On Election Guard

MANILA (AP) — With new voters, 1,423 mayors and a like violence threatening, 25,000 number of deputy mayors and troopers went on "red alert" more than 1,000 city officials. Saturday in an effort to head off further bloodshed before elections Tuesday for senators, govern Communist and pro-Western foreign policies. The Vietnam war, to which this country has committed 2,000 troops, has not cropped up.

Violence is traditional here where campaigns are fiercely fought. During the 1965 campaign 33 persons were killed.

By constabulary count, 39 persons have been killed and 33 wounded in 92 incidents this presidential campaign. Unofficial estimates run beyond 100.

Sixteen of the country's 65 provinces have been tagged critical, meaning they already have been the scene of political violence. Twenty-one others are on the police "sensitive" list.

In a prelude to the voting, nine persons were slain in four separate shootings Friday in the northern provinces of Ilocos Sur and Abra, and the deputy mayor of a town in Cavite Province.

President Ferdinand E. Marcos called on political leaders "to stop inflaming your followers, and urge them instead to cooperate fully with the armed forces in keeping the peace."

Between 7.5 million and 8 million persons out of the country's 33 million have registered as voters. They will elect eight sen-

LBJ Asks Meet On Neutral Ship

ABOARD U.S.S. ENTERPRISE (AP) — President Johnson dramatically proposed from the flight deck of the world's largest warship Saturday a meeting at sea in search of peace in Vietnam.

In terms of the Navy he served in World War II, Johnson sent "a hail across the seas" to Hanoi:

"Now hear this: You force us to fight. But you have only to say the word for our quarrel to be buried beneath the waves." The President stood in the slanting rays of an early morning sun streaming across the folded wings of fighting planes and spoke in a special Veterans Day service aboard the nuclear carrier Enterprise. The ship was idling just off the southern California coast near San Diego. Declaring again that "our statesmen will press the search for peace to the corners of our earth," Johnson came up with the fresh thought "that the meeting ground could even be the sea," with the Atlantic Charter of 1941 as a pattern.

"Standing here," he said, "speaks between the vastness of ocean and heaven, men might realize the ultimate smallness of their quarrels. They just might come to see the waste of war amidst this wealth of God and nature."

"Somehow they might realize the infinity of promise that stretches outward like the sea, could men only settle their differences and be free to explore it together," he continued. "It may only be a dream. But it could so easily be salvation. The United States follows the dream of peace, so we include even the seas in our search. For us, the warroom could readily be a conference room. A neutral sea would be as good a meeting place as any."

"So long as two came to the meeting. So long as both met halfway. So long as one did not insist that the other walk on water and work a miracle alone." (Turn To Page Seven)

U.S., Reds Fight At Close Range

SAIGON (AP) — Fierce fighting at hand grenade range erupted Saturday in the jungles of the central highlands and both U.S. and North Vietnamese casualties mounted beyond the 500 mark in the 10-day battle around Dak To.

About 1,000 infantrymen and paratroopers from the U.S. 4th Infantry Division and the 173rd Airborne Brigade fought North Vietnamese forces in close-quarter battles less than five miles apart.

After the fighting tapered off at nightfall, 27 Americans had been counted dead and 243 wounded, pushing the U.S. casualty toll to 83 dead and 423 wounded.

Officers reported 103 North Vietnamese troops were killed Saturday, making a total of 521 for the 10 days of fighting, by U.S. count.

At dawn Sunday, helicopters were still lifting out the wounded from three companies of the 1st Brigade of the 4th Infantry Division in the battle area about 270 miles north of Saigon. The Army engineers moving to back up the paratroops and infantrymen. The U.S. Command said the Communists killed five of the Americans and wounded seven in a 15-minute flight that cost them 13 dead.

The heavy action coincided with two allied moves to check the hostilities that have marked Vietnam for two decades: —President Johnson, speaking aboard the carrier Enterprise off San Diego Harbor, urged Hanoi authorities again to meet with American representatives and suggested: "A neutral ship on a neutral sea would be as good a meeting place as any."

—President Nguyen Van Thieu announced South Vietnam will observe a 24-hour truce for Christmas, as in previous years, near Washington, Denuit Secretary of Defense Paul H. Nitze gave action for 48 hours for New Year's and for Tet, the lunar new year celebrated by many Asians.

About 600 paratroopers of the 173rd Airborne Brigade engaged in a day-long shootout with dug-in North Vietnamese 12 miles southwest of Dak To. Spokesmen said 18 of the paratroopers were killed and 96 wounded, while 98 of the enemy died under ground fire and bombing and strafing from jets.

Two paratroop companies were reported to have made initial heavy contact. Then two other companies moved in as reinforcements. Field artillery as well as fighter-bombers worked over the Communist positions.

A battalion-sized unit of the U.S. 4th Infantry Division took on another contingent of Hanoi regulars nearby. Field reports said the Americans—perhaps 500 men—were still exchanging fire with them in the night.

There was no immediate report on casualties from that engagement. A Red ambush chopped into an armored convoy of U.S. Army engineers moving to back up the paratroops and infantrymen. The U.S. Command said the Communists killed five of the Americans and wounded seven in a 15-minute flight that cost them 13 dead.

Mark Vets Day Across Country With Ceremonies

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS President Johnson led the nation's observance of Veterans Day Saturday with a new plea for Vietnam peace talks.

Appearing at early morning ceremonies on the flight deck of the carrier Enterprise off San Diego, Johnson suggested a Vietnam parley on "a neutral ship on a neutral sea."

Speaking to the ship's crew, but addressing his remarks to North Vietnam's leaders, he said, "You have only to say the word for our quarrel to be buried beneath the waves."

Throughout the country the day was marked by the traditional parades. There were 12,000 marchers in Boston, 8,000 in Birmingham, Ala., and 2,000 in New York City.

In ceremonies close to the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier at Arlington National Cemetery Christmas, as in previous years, near Washington, Denuit Secretary of Defense Paul H. Nitze gave action for 48 hours for New Year's and for Tet, the lunar new year celebrated by many what it may.

Three Vietnam War Prisoners Set Free

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — Three American war prisoners, one of them seriously ill, dropped swiftly out of sight Saturday after their release by the Viet Cong to a representative of a U.S. committee opposed to the war in Vietnam.

The three U.S. Army sergeants were set free in a ceremony staged by the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front at its modest Phnom Penh headquarters. The men then were taken away in a station wagon driven by a man who appeared to be Vietnamese. That was the last the newsmen saw of them.

The Australian Embassy, which handles U.S. affairs in Cambodia, said it had not been contacted about the release of the men.

In Saigon, U.S. officials released a document contending the three prisoners had been brainwashed by the Communists. The document quoted a Viet Cong defector who claimed he personally took part in the indoctrination of two of the prisoners.

Thomas Hayden, the "political activist" here as the representative of the peace committee to accept the custody of the prisoners, claimed the prisoners were not under duress and that he knew where they are located. But he would not say where and added that it is improbable that newsmen will be allowed to see them.

A Cambodian government spokesman disclaimed any knowledge of the whereabouts of the prisoners or what will be done with them. Cambodia broke diplomatic relations with the United States in 1965.

The men turned over are James E. Jackson of Talcott, W.Va., captured in 1965; Edward R. Johnson of Seaside, Calif., captured in 1964; and Daniel Lee Pitzer, a Special Forces trooper from Spring Lake, N.C., who was captured in October 1963 and was possibly the longest held prisoner in Viet Cong hands.

In Washington, Ambassador at Large W. Averell Harriman, who supervises U.S. efforts to free prisoners of war, said "we are very much gratified at the release of these three men." However neither the State Department nor the Pentagon had anything further to say on the record pending the actual return of the men.

One problem apparently is the lack of quick communications with Phnom Penh where the Australian embassy represents U.S. interests.

Privately, Washington authorities said they have no evidence that the Viet Cong action fore-shadows a more general release of other Americans.

On the basis of brief conversation with the men, Hayden reported they had undergone a harrowing three-week journey from a prison camp in the Mekong Delta where they were last held. He said they had been strafed by American warplanes and Johnson was growing weaker from dysentery which felled him in Phnom Penh.

High Court Eyes City Government

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court focuses its attention this week on an oil-rich county in the prairies of western Texas with the very structure of the nation's local governments hanging in the balance.

There's plenty of sky but not many people outside Midland City. According to the 1960 census, 66,225 people lived in the city and only 1,492 elsewhere in Midland County.

And yet, the city elects only one of the four voting commissioners on the county governing body, called the Commissioners' Court. For this reason, Midland—and its mayor, Hank Avery—may make history.

Back in June 1964 the Supreme Court ignited a revolution in state government. Seats in both houses of a two-house legislature, it held, must be apportioned substantially on a population basis.

What about grass-root government, the city and county councils, school districts and township boards that derive their powers from state legislatures? Must they be based, too, on one-man, one-vote?

The court pondered the questions last term in cases from Alabama, Michigan, New York and Virginia. But it never gave a definitive answer. About all it did was to seemingly exempt from the one-man, one-vote doctrine local bodies that exercise administrative—rather than legislative—functions.

The suit begun in December 1962 by Avery, onetime independent oil operator and architect, may bring the constitutional answer. If he wins—and the Justice Department is on his side—many local governments will have to be radically changed.

"Discrimination," said the Justice Department in a brief, "is neither greater nor lesser, whether malapportionment exists at the state or at the local level."

And, the department said, "so long as the Midland County Commissioners Court performs important governmental functions which significantly affect the city residents—and has a general taxing authority over them—the equal-population principle applies and requires that districting for seats on that body be based on population."

Much of the argument before the high court this week could turn on that point: The kind of powers the Commissioners Court really has.

Johnson Presents Own Silver Star To Medal Winner

MCCONNELL AIR FORCE BASE, Kan. (AP) — One of the 11 F105 Thunderchief pilots receiving Silver Stars from President Johnson here Saturday for gallantry over North Vietnam was surprised by a special moment.

The President removed his own Silver Star cloth lapel pin—which he had worn constantly since it was presented to him by Gen. Douglas MacArthur in 1942—and placed it in the pilot's hand.

The recipient of the unusual moment was Capt. Howard L. Bodenhamer, a native of Roanoke, Ind., who is currently assigned to McConnell.

The president received the Silver Star for a flying mission in the South Pacific in the early days of World War II when he was a Navy commander. Bodenhamer received the award—his second Silver Star—for gallantry in air operations near Hanoi last April 19.

FIND 21 FOOT LONG WORM EAST LONDON, South Africa (AP) — Two visiting Swedish scientists teaching at the Transvaal's Potchefstroom University College, A. J. Reynecke and Perlof Ljungstrom, reported they found an earthworm 21 feet long on a road between Alice and King Williamstown, Cape Province. They said it was the largest ever found.

Japanese Seek Return Of Lands Lost In War

WASHINGTON (AP) — Japan's prime minister comes to Washington this week seeking early return of the Bonin Islands and Okinawa to Tokyo's control. His prospects are bright on the Bonins, dim on Okinawa. Prime Minister Eisaku Sato is to confer with President Johnson Tuesday.

Russians Insist On Bombing Halt Before Talks

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet news agency Tass reported President Johnson's offer Saturday for peace talks at sea with North Vietnam but said he "gave no hint that the United States was going to change its aggressive policy in Vietnam."

Tass, in a brief comment from Washington, also said Johnson did not mention stopping immediately and unconditionally the bombing raids against North Vietnam.

The Soviet government has insisted that the bombing must be stopped if there are to be peace talks. This position was repeated by the North Vietnamese leader Le Duan during a meeting here commemorating the 50th anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution.

According to Tass, "American press reports indicate that the main purpose of the President's trip is to boost the sagging morale of American soldiers who do not see any U.S. successes in Vietnam."

How Much Reformation In Christians' Dialogue?

David Poling

By DAVID POLING

It is now 450 years since young Martin Luther stapled up his theological protest on the front door of the castle church in Wittenberg, Germany. Nothing happened, at least not right away. It was really an invitation to a debate (some debate!).

Most of Luther's 95 theses or points were in contention with the way Friar Tetzel was handling penitence and indulgences. Luther said he was all wrong, unbiblical and a victim of bad habits. Anyway, Luther claimed that he expressed the true mind of the papacy against the sort of intramural practices that Tetzel was promoting.

You would be hard-pressed to find many Catholics today who would disagree with Martin Luther. Most of the excesses of the 16th-century church have been reformed, refined or renovated. Luther wrote 450 years ago:

"The true treasure of the Church is the Holy Gospel." This has been reiterated time and again in this decade of Vatican II. Said Luther:

"Christians should strive to follow Christ their head through pains, deaths and hells." This surely is the central statement for all Christians in dialogue, although the tension mounts when you insist that the Pope is the infallible guide in faith and practice.

The big question today is always this: In what way, by what kind of authority would Protestants honor the papacy? Never, say many "separated brethren." They remember too well the other days when people like Lord Macaulay would state:

"I am in the right and you are in the wrong. When you are stronger you ought to tolerate me, for it is your duty to tolerate truth. But when I am the stronger, I shall persecute you, for it is my duty to persecute error."

Robert McAfee Brown has taken a long hard look at that question in his book, "The Ecumenical Revolution." He notes that this was a well-exercised notion for Calvin and Luther, as well as confident Catholics. Brown argues that neither Protestants nor Catholics believe this any more. The revolution has indeed hit the Christian community. Brown traces this current reformation in this manner:

Journal Courier, Jacksonville, Ill., Nov. 12, 1967

"Pope John opened new doors for Roman Catholicism. The council kept those doors open. It remains to be seen how far the church will walk through them."

Better yet, how far will the Protestant community go in its dialogue with Rome? For Protestants, McAfee Brown's volume will be a good guidebook for those who want to grasp the real issues.

There are those who, of course, despair of this ecumenical dialogue. They see the rise of a massive superchurch, pyramiding an unwieldy bureaucracy of clerical functionaries who are out of touch with the essence of the Christian gospel. Said Father George J. Hafner of New Jersey (very active in the "underground" church):

"The Catholic Church involves 500 million people, vast buildings and great wealth. Its major efforts must be devoted to ward keeping itself together. The ecumenical movement seems to me to be an attempt in this direction. It would be a pat solution to organize all Christians in one great structure."

(The Rev. Poling is associate editor of the Christian Herald.)

Cooking Fresh Mushrooms

By GAYNOR MADDOX

NEA Food and Nutrition Editor

Q — How should I handle fresh mushrooms before cooking?

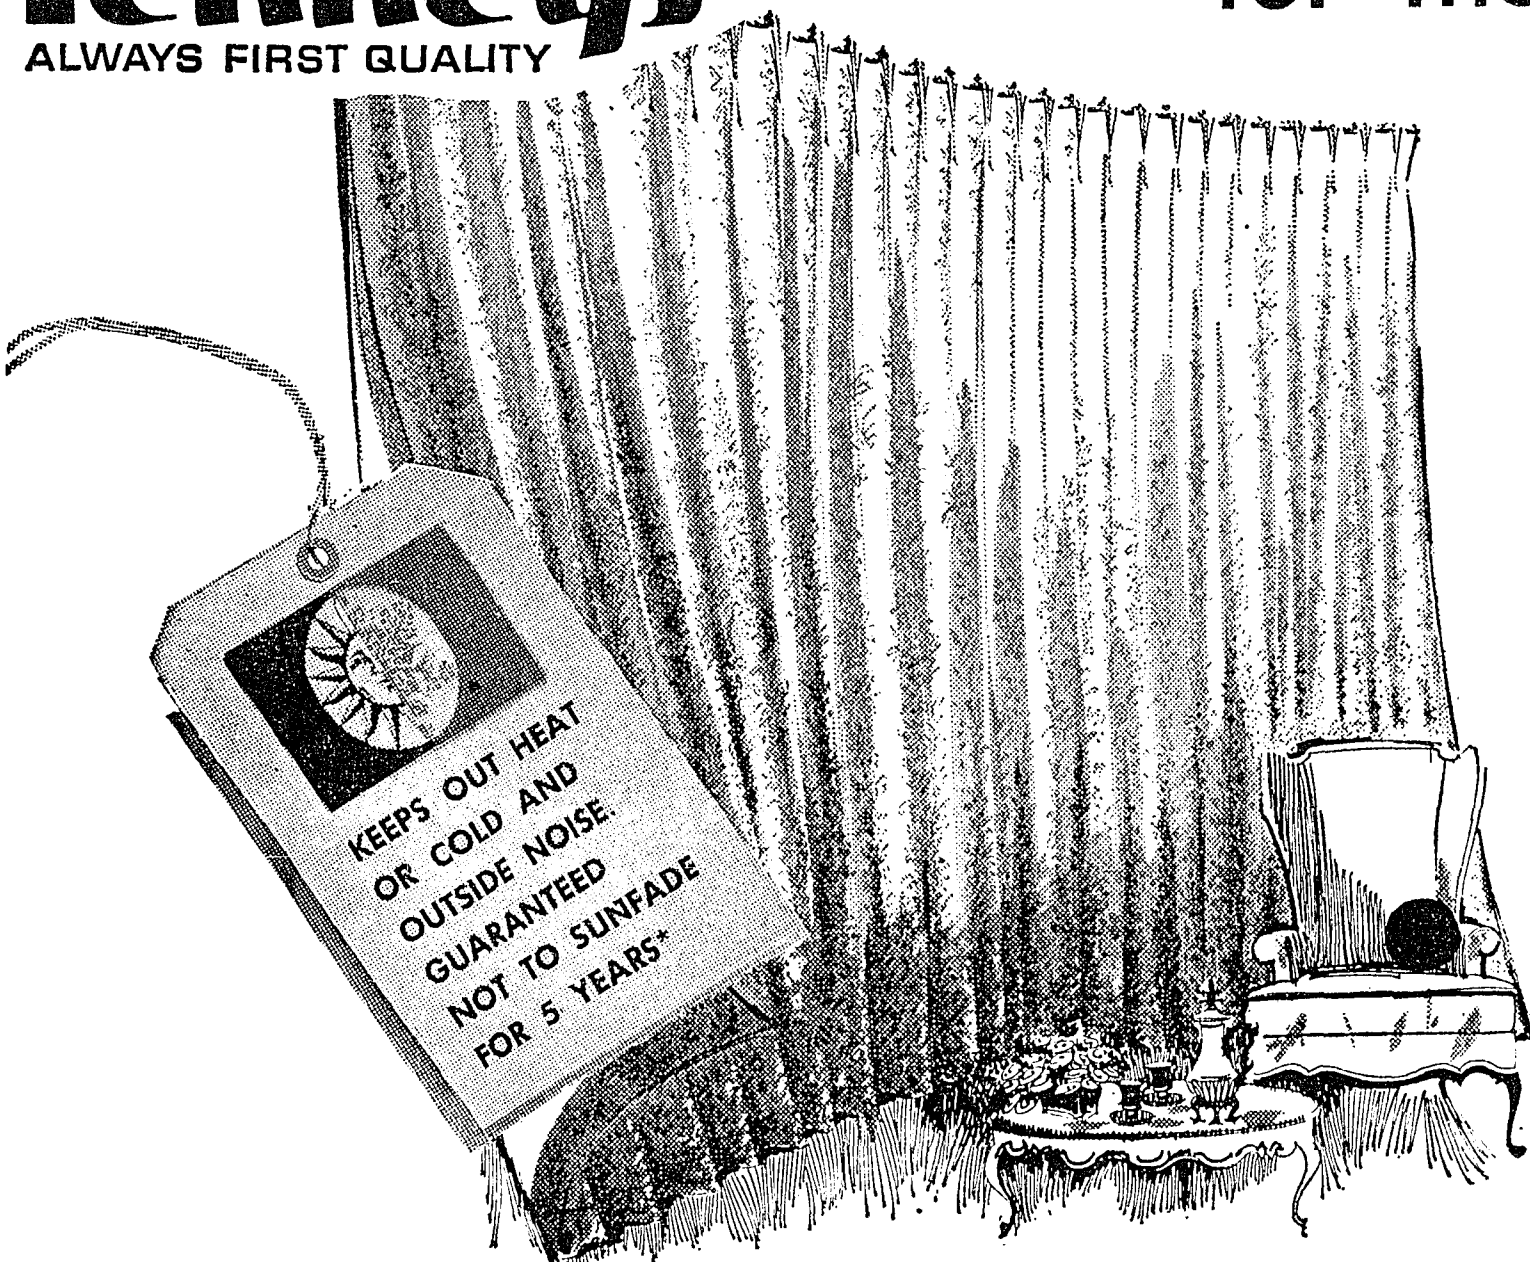

A — When preparing fresh mushrooms, wash quickly, but do not soak. Lift them out of the water and drain. Do not peel. The skins of cultivated mushrooms are too delicate to require this step and, besides, this wastes flavor. Cook no more than four minutes. Overcooking makes them tough. Whenever possible, cook just before serving. They grow throughout the year in windowless houses or abandoned limestone mines. Canners and processors take 122 million pounds of the annual yield, while approximately 52 million pounds go to the fresh market.

The President said these thoughts came upon him aboard the Enterprise because the ship reminded him of the cruiser Augusta, in August, 1941, and another time dark with war.

Roosevelt and Churchill, he said, met in the wardrobe of the Augusta and lit a flame of hope in a charter which held that:

—There shall be no territorial changes not in accord with the freely expressed will of the people concerned.

—All nations must have the right to dwell in safety within their own boundaries, living their lives in freedom from fear and want.

—"Nations can meet on the seas to repeat the miracle now," Johnson said. "But if they meet, it must be to build on the two central and timeless principles of the Atlantic Charter."

Woman's Club sponsor

'Holiday Home Tour' at Arenzville next Sunday

By PAT BISCHOFF

ARENZVILLE—Antique and art lovers and history buffs will be interested in the Holiday Home Tour being sponsored Sunday, November 19th, by the Arenzville Woman's Club. Three Arenzville homes will be open to visitors from two to five o'clock in the afternoon. Tickets, (dollar donation) are available from tour committee members, listed below: Long's pharmacy in Jacksonville; Valu-plus pharmacy in Beardstown or at the homes the day of the tour.

Engelbach Home

The Engelbach family house, home of Mrs. Esther Morrison at 209 South Charles street, is one of the oldest houses in Arenzville. It was built by Francis Arenz, founder of the village, in the early 1850's.

Later the home was the residence of Herman (Gig) Engelbach, a former Arenzville banker and the uncle of Dr. Friedrich Engelbach of Jacksonville, the present owner.

Many of the furnishings belong to the Engelbach family. In the living room hangs a Gainsborough 'Blue Boy.' A massive slant-top desk with leather work surface occupies an alcove in this room. The paneled dining room with beamed ceiling contains a large sideboard on which Mrs. Morrison displays a silver and crystal castor set, along with other antique glassware and china. One corner of the room houses Mrs. Morrison's "office" as Arenzville Township Supervisor.

The recently redecorated master bedroom features an interesting hanging light fixture and antique furnishings. A Staffordshire washbowl set in the "Lake Scenery" pattern stands on a commode.

Mrs. Fran Hobrock will assist Mrs. Morrison as hostess at her home.

Clark Residence

The 15-room white stucco home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Clark at 405 East Virginia Road is of Country German architecture, and was built for Henry Meyer, a native of Oldenburg, Germany, in 1915. Mr. Meyer visited in Germany in 1911 and at that time acquired the plans for the house. A carriage house was also built on the property.

The woodwork on the first floor, some of it elaborately carved, is mahogany, and the flooring is native oak and hard-rock maple. The fireplace is interestingly constructed, with the bricks laid endwise in the German fashion.

Featured in the dining room is a large built-in breakfast in which Mrs. Clark displays some of her antique dinnerware. A ruby glass chandelier sheds a rosy glow on the ceiling over the dining table.

The house is furnished largely with antique furniture, and a colorful bottle and glassware collection adds a decorative touch throughout the rooms. A Dutch lounge and sleeping porch are features of the second floor.

Assistant hostess at the Clark home will be Mrs. Harold Kruse.

Modern Brick

At the modern brick home of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Houston at 105 North street, which was built by them, her father, Edwin C. Lovekamp, and his father, Lee Houston of Beardstown, the interest centers around original art work by Mrs. Houston. Her paintings are attractive focal points in her decorating scheme.

Mrs. Houston, who has been interested in art all her life, began serious painting a number of years ago, and has augmented her natural talent with art courses offered at various times in Morgan and Cass counties. She is a member of the Jacksonville Area Artists League and the Cass County Art Club in Beardstown.

Concentrating mainly on landscapes and wildlife, she is particularly interested in painting game birds and song birds. She works primarily in oils, pastels, and water colors. An oil painting of the village of Arenzville viewed from the hill south of town hangs in the First National Bank of Arenzville, where Mrs. Houston is a cashier.

Among other items of interest at the Houston home is a beautifully refinished cradle with a 140-year history.

Guests will be greeted at the Houston home by Mrs. Wilbur Lippert who is assisting Mrs. Houston as hostess.

Visit In Any Order

Guests may visit the three homes in any order they wish on Nov. 19th. Refreshments will be offered at the Ralph Clark home during the afternoon. It would be appreciated if, in deference to carpeting and floor finishes, women visitors would wear low-heeled shoes.

The Woman's Club committee members who have arranged for the event are Mrs. Harold Kruse, Mrs. Robert Brasell, Mrs. Fred Knight, Mrs. Wilbur Lippert, and Mrs. August Hansmeier.

Following the wiener roast a hayride was enjoyed. Mr. Wegehoff provided the wagons and tractor, which he drove himself. Chaperones were Miss Suzanne Hartman, Mrs. Eleanor Elliott, Jack Frechill and John Hayter.

SMOOTH OR ROUGH

All of a sudden shirts are all - important in all wardrobes. They're clinging softly, in wonderful silks, cottons and satins, ruffing up in organdy.

TOUGH STAINS GO

Beauty Care Today

By MID

Exercise is important to keep the muscles firm. You probably all do certain exercises daily.
Did you know there are exercises for the facial muscles, too?

Regular facial exercise will help the skin retain its elasticity. These exercises are not to prevent wrinkles, but to retain and improve your skin tone.

Stand in front of a mirror.
Suddenly, look as though you've been terribly surprised. Mouth wide open, eyebrows shot up as high as they can go. Now, try to look like a prune. That's right, purse everything together: mouth, eyes, nose, forehead. Repeat these two in sequence for about ten times each day. If you're stretching and pursing hard enough, you should feel a little tingle after you're through.
Suggestion: Better do these exercises in private. You might get a hysterical reaction from the rest of your family.

Glisson with a pair of never worn ladies boots, size 6 1/2, and Mrs. Robert A. Fay, chairman, with a versatile wicker bag and costume jewelry. Mrs. Claude Davis is also a member of this committee.

Persons with articles for the booth should have them at the Lounge no later than Thursday noon, November 16th, with each item ready for sale, sized, etc. Committee members will, if contacted, also pick up donations.

Molly Brown At Pittsfield High Nov. 16-17-18

PITTSFIELD — Another all-school musical comedy will be presented by the Pittsfield high school in the auditorium at 8 p.m. November 16, 17 and 18. "The Unsinkable Molly Brown," directed by Jon Robb, has 21 scenes requiring 11 different sets which have been skillfully designed by Mrs. Marie Miles. Mrs. Miles and her stage crew David Harrison, Jim Hood, Teresa and Marcia Bergman, Joyce Lowry and others have worked diligently to solve the many scenery problems of this type musical. Mrs. Miles and Mr. Robb started planning the sets for the play last August.

Molly Brown is portrayed by PHS sophomore Peggy Williams. Rhonda Smith plays the part of Princess DeLong one of Europe's dignitaries brought back to the inelegant west by Molly Brown to meet one of Denver's socialites, Mrs. McGlone played by Joyce Lowry. The play takes place around the turn of the century in Colorado in the rough mining town of Leadville and later in Denver. David Harrison is Molly's husband Johnny Brown, and Kevin Elledge is the saloon keeper Christmas Morgan.

Chorus rehearsals started in September under the direction of Mrs. Norris Stauffer. The people of Leadville, cowboys, miners and dancing girls and calico ladies of the west, are represented by the chorus. Debbie Alspaugh, Linda Gay, Ellen Borrowman and Teresa Bergman are members of the dancing girls' chorus. Craig Seybold, Jim Hood, Steve Dwine, Phillip Smith and Larry Edmonds sing solos in the Sadle Rock saloon scene.

Other members of the cast are Jack DeWolf and Richard Franklin, Bob Anderson, Sandy Burrows, Bruce Penstone, Helen Apps, Karen Barton, Debbie Petty, Steve Grote, and Fred Grote. Chorus members are Mike Watson, Steve Haskins, Steve Dwine, Nita Grigshy, Marcia Stinson, Lana Peecher, Laure Baker, Debbie Roodhouse, Becky Ifner, LeDeana Root, Sharon Kilebrew, Kathy Mays, Carol Burrows, Louise Brass, Sandy Shaw, Joan Richards and Marcia Bergman.

Featured in the dance "Up Where The People Are" are Kevin Elledge and Madelyn Benson, Richard Franklin and Kathy Frazier, Bob Anderson and Debbie Petty, Larry Edmonds and Cindy Berry, Jack DeWolf and Noue Neibur, N. D. Harrison and Teresa Bergman. Marcia Hillebrener is choreographer.

At Trinity Church

Dr. Brown Dobyns will speak here Nov. 18 on Primitive New Zealand

Dr. Brown Dobyns will be the speaker at the open luncheon meeting of the Episcopal Churchwomen on Saturday, November 18th. The luncheon is at Harris Hall at 12:30 p.m.

Dr. Dobyns, who grew up in Jacksonville, was graduated from Illinois College in 1935. He received his M.D. from Johns Hopkins in 1939 and Ph. D. in surgery from the University of Minnesota in 1946.

He prepared himself thoroughly for his specialized medical and surgical field, the thyroid gland. He spent six years in various capacities at the Mayo Clinic, two years as a Research Fellow in surgery at the Harvard Medical School, and two years as an assistant in surgery at Massachusetts General Hospital.

After three years as assistant professor of surgery at Harvard, Dr. Dobyns joined the faculty at Western Reserve in 1951. He is currently professor of surgery and associate director of Metropolitan General Hospital in Cleveland. Illinois College awarded him an Alumni Citation in 1956 for his outstanding career in surgery and for his research in diseases of the thyroid.

In 1966, as a Fulbright scholar, Dr. Dobyns lectured at several Australian medical schools. While "down under" he had an opportunity to accompany the white patrol officer into the highlands of New Guinea. He also spent three weeks in New Zealand at hospitals, medical schools, and medical conferences.

Dr. Dobyns is not only an outstanding medical scholar, he is also an able amateur photographer and an enthusiastic ornithologist. On this trip he had unusual opportunities to photograph remote tribes, primitive life, and striking scenery. His illustrated lecture on Primitive man, on Saturday, will present some of his slides.

Anyone interested in the program is welcome to come. A limited number of luncheon reservations at $1.25 per person are available by calling the church office prior to November 15.

Men, women, or students who choose may come in after lunch. The illustrated lecture should begin about 1:45.

Motorist Aids Cass Police In Arrest Of Four

BEARDSTOWN — One man was charged with four offenses and three others were also arrested here due to fast work by a car driver and local police. Walter Lloyd of Rushville left his wrecked truck after it was sideswiped and followed a "fleeing truck" in another car to determine its direction after an accident, then notified police here.

Officers Riley and Cook, guessing at the approximate location of the truck, made an arrest of Grover Dickerson who was charged with driving while intoxicated, leaving the scene of a property damage accident, contributing to the delinquency of a minor and driving after his license had been revoked. Also arrested with Dickerson were David Large, 18, and Walter Bradley, 18, both of Beardstown, who face charges in connection with possession of liquor, and contributing to the delinquency of a minor, a 15-years old who was charged with curfew violation.

The four were in the truck when overhauled by Riley and Cook and were scheduled for hearing in circuit court here. Lloyd said his car was sideswiped by the truck driven by Dickerson early Wednesday morning when Lloyd was going home from work. A friend following Lloyd in his own car picked up Lloyd and they followed the vehicle involved, bringing about the arrest of four.

Boyle Strings Necklace Of Memories

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Memory is a rosary of recall.

It is a gracious necklace of the human spirit. Each bead is a past event or precious experience kept shining with the fadeless luster of the mind.

You have strung yourself quite a necklace if you can look back and remember when—

If a child was often cranky and listless, it was suspected that he probably had worms.

You were pretty sure an elderly man had false teeth if he consistently declined to eat an apple in the presence of others.

During summers the street repair crews would give every kid in the neighborhood a piece of warm tar to chew. It had only one defect—you couldn't blow bubbles with it.

The cultural center of the American home was the family piano. Mother or sister played, while everyone else gathered around and sang.

Father always rather hated to have company for dinner, as that meant having to eat in the dining room rather than the kitchen, where it was more relaxed.

One of the big warning signs that inflation had arrived was the doctor's decision to start charging $3 for home calls.

It was a mark of gentility to eat store-bought bread. In most small towns women still baked it at home.

A wife who couldn't turn out a real tasty pie was regarded as a slipshod homemaker and deficient in character.

A prosperous farmer proud of his stature in the community always had the hired hand oil the harness until it shone before driving his horse and wagon into town on Saturday. After buying his supplies, he usually went over to the courthouse to find out who was being tried for what and to discuss with his old cronies how the elected officials were wasting the county's money.

Whenever you saw a lad with a bandaged thumb, you knew he had burned himself while trying to learn the esoteric adult art of lighting a kitchen match with his thumbnail.

When a single lady over 30 got herself a cat it was thought she had given up hope of landing herself a husband and had become reconciled to the idea of being an old maid.

An intellectual was anybody who subscribed to the Literary Digest magazine. After 40, a majority of Americans rarely bought or read any book except the Bible.

A necktie was something many men never wore except when courting, going to church, or attending weddings and funerals.

When a husband died without leaving much insurance money, his wife immediately had to consider whether she could support the family by taking in boarders.

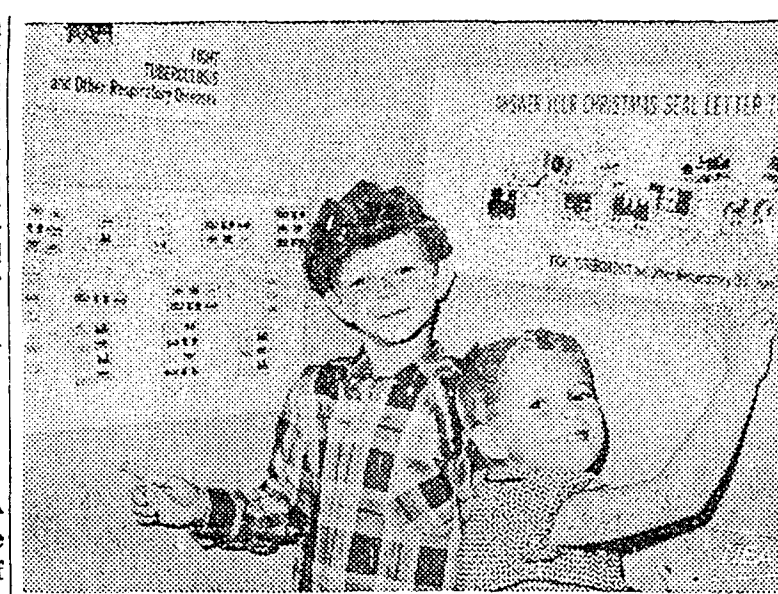

A workman received his weekly pay in cash on Saturday afternoon. If he was cautious, he'd put the loose change in his pocket and the folding money in one of his shoes, to be sure he'd get it home intact. And if he was very cautious, he'd put part of the money in one shoe, and the rest in the other. Moralists were decrying that new-fangled instrument, the radio, as an invention of the devil that would only cause people to fritter away their time uselessly.

Those were the days! Remember?

Don't-Drive-After-Drinking Law Makes Changes In Britain

By GRANVILLE WATTS
Associated Press Writer

LONDON (AP) — Britain's new don't-drive-after-drinking law, one month old, is changing in people's lives. Parsons says, disgruntled British publicans things. "A good pub is like a safety valve. You can let off steam about your job or the state of out random roadside checks with a breath-test instrument called a breathalyzer. The worst-hit pubs are those in country areas which depend largely on motorists. Faced with dwindling bar sales, some of the tavern owners have even threatened to organize a nationwide pub strike and a protest march on government offices. First police figures, however, show that the breathalyzer law is working. In one area of Yorkshire accidents have dropped nearly 40 per cent. But it is likely to be early next year before an official judgment is passed on the breathalyzer method. Motorists' organizations are expressing concern at the number of drivers who are being tested and found fit to drive. They feel the police should only stop motorists who are obviously suspicious. In the spot checks drivers are asked to breathe into a tube. If chemically treated crystals turn green beyond a certain mark the driver is taken to a police station and subjected to blood or urine tests. Anyone found with more than 80 milligrams of alcohol in 100 millilitres of his blood faces a $280 fine, four months' imprisonment or both. Just where the danger mark lies is any drinker's guess. One hefty publican downed 12 quick vodkas and still passed the test. A thinner and less experienced drinker failed the test after two pints of beer. The law has hit hotels and restaurants as well as pubs. Hotels throughout Britain have reported scores of canceled functions for fear of that late drive home. Trade drops are marginal in pubs in the center of London and other cities. Breweries hope increased drinking at home will cut down losses. But in the country pubs, the impact has been hard. "That's right there'll be no party this Christmas?" asked a husky beer drinker in The Swan. "Afraid so," said the barman.

Beardstown City Workers Get Pay Boost

BEARDSTOWN — The city council has voted a 21 cents an hour wage increase to city workers, to be effective January 1. The hourly rate will be $2.31 under the new arrangement. Councilmen met here Tuesday night to approve the action. Bills and claims totaling $39,677 were approved, and the report from Schmitt Memorial hospital indicated a $5,000 surplus over expenditures during October. The city clerk reported receipts in her office at $27,000 last month, and the city treasurer showed a balance in all funds of $165,129. The council took action on several building permit requests, including that to build an addition for the U & K carwash.

Bea (Mrs. Howard) Schenken writes: "My sister, Mrs. Harold Goldberg of Gary, Ind., was in New York for a few days. I asked her what she would like to do and, strangely enough, her answer was, 'Play bridge.' It just happened that there was a duplicate game at the Cavenish Club and we played. Here is a top score that she got for making four hearts:

"The defense started off with three diamond tricks. A spade was taken by declarer's ace, and it was up to her to make the rest of the tricks. She started by leading a heart to dummy's ace. West's play of the jack caused her to pause and reflect for some time. Eventually she decided that it was a bona fide singleton, so her next play was to lead the nine of hearts and let it ride. After that, it was a simple matter to take dummy's king of trumps, lead a club and finesse her jack, draw the last trump and eventually get rid of her losing spade on dummy's fourth club."

The hand is interesting for a number of reasons. The first one is that the four - heart contract was rather ambitious but hard to stay out of. Actually, Mrs. Schenken had a minimum heart raise and Mrs. Goldberg a minimum jump to game.

Then the diamond lead was unusual but most effective in that it gave the defense the first three tricks. It also gave declarer a lot of information. The spade lead that came next showed that West had overcalled with very little. Surely he would have a singleton to justify his overcall, so that when the jack of hearts appeared Mrs. Goldberg was able to finesse with confidence.

As for the club finesse and break, there was no other way to bring in four club tricks. It is a well - known principle of play that, when only one combination of cards will let you make your contract, you play for that combination.

Religion In The News

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — An odd and religiously garbed newcomer to the American scene, television's "The Flying Nun," is getting some flak from church observation posts. But they don't expect it to bring her down.

She also has some support among churchy ground forces. But it's heavily accompanied with the ack-ack.

"Heaven help her if she ever lands in this diocese," concludes a story in the Long Island Catholic, which found that all but two of 70 nuns polled in the area took a dim view of the soaring sister.

"A flipperty-jit of a nun," said one. "Ridiculous behavior," said another. "It's for the birds."

A "travesty of a religious order," writes television reviewer Chris Condon in the National Catholic Reporter.

But in the Catholic Register of Denver, Sue Roethlis puts up a defense, saying: "Each flight of fancy is rich in humor, sentiment and human truth. The general fluff and light heartedness of the series, however, will not prevent viewers from awareness of a deeper message."

The subject of the crossfire is Sister Bertrille, whose lightweight, wide-winged headpiece and a good breeze regularly set her sailing in a current Thursday evening television series on the American Broadcasting Co. network.

It's "a gimmick, but it's an attractive gimmick," says Charles E. Reilly Jr., executive director of the National Catholic Office for Radio and Television, which gives technical advice on taste and ecclesiastical accuracy for the series.

It's the first prime time commercial television show for which the agency has been asked for guidance since U.S. bishops established it in 1965 to help improve religious programming and act as a liaison between the Church and industry.

The airborne character in religious getup is portrayed by actress Sally Field, formerly star of the television show, "Gidget." An American junior nun in a Puerto Rican convent, her aerial gift repeatedly gets her into comic situations.

In the United Presbyterian weekly, Presbyterian Life, associate editor Janet Harbison notes that the show is about Catholics, but that "in this ecclesiastical age, we all fly or fall together."

And she comments: "Sister Bertrille flies chiefly for fun and because she can't help it. She roller skates, too. This light-hearted approach to a life devoted to faith is probably a good thing. Still, you have to wonder."

"It identifies the church of Jesus Christ with stale trivia and jejune antics." Nevertheless, she says, the aerial nun probably will survive for quite a while.

TO FOOL A SILKWORM

TOKYO (AP) — The Agriculture-Forestry Ministry is experimenting with pills to substitute for mulberry leaves as food for silkworms.

The ministry says it has been experimenting for one year and the results appear promising. The pills contain powdered mulberry leaves, pulverized soybean, glucose, organic acid, yeast and minerals.

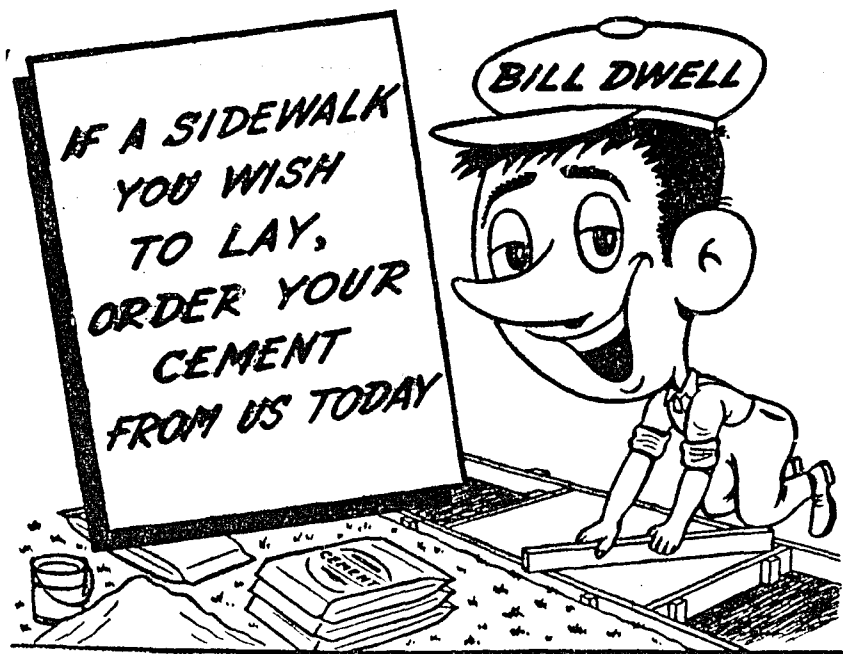

The ministry says the pills would be safe against destruction by typhoons, frost or drought.

To Model Garments In Chicago

Western Illinois will be represented in the state "Make It Yourself with Wool" contest by Paula Ferre, Christian county (left); Betty Ann Riffy, Macoupin county, and Mrs. Robert Houston of Morgan.

They will model their garments "made of American wool by American mills" Tuesday morning in the Sherman House, Chicago. The show is in conjunction with the annual meeting of the Illinois Agricultural association and they will be guests of the association.

They won the expense-free trip to Chicago by winning the show held recently in Jacksonville by women and girls from IAA District 9-10.

Three Illinois seamstresses will win trips to the annual meeting of the American Farm Bureau Federation and the grand prize is an all-expense trip to the Mediterranean.

Sixty-one girls and women from 15 counties competed in the local contest.

The Morgan county entries were Mrs. Houston, Linda Lovetkamp, Karen Baldwin and Kathy Love.

'Pursuit Of Excellence' The Theme Of The '67 4-H Club Congress

Business leaders from across the nation met recently in Chicago to learn what is new in 4-H and to discuss continued financial support. Their firms annually contribute about $1 1/4 million covering more than 50 national and regional 4-H award programs.

Hosting 1,650 teenage delegates to the 46th National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago is another function of the 4-H award donors. The annual Congress, referred to as the "showcase of 4-H," gets under way the Sunday after Thanksgiving.

The Congress theme "Pursuit of Excellence" sets the tone for the week-long event which culminates years of diligent work on a wide range of 4-H programs. The trip awards were based on excellence in a completed project plus a record of outstanding 4-H achievement over a period of years.

"Learning about plans for participation in the National 4-H Club Congress," said Raymond C. Firestone, chairman and chief executive officer of The Firestone Tire & Rubber Company, "is always inspiring to me." Firestone, who also is vice president of the National 4-H Service Committee, addressed the 4-H donors' meeting.

Victories And Defeats Firestone continued: "4-H believes in competition, and while rewarding outstanding accomplishments, it also teaches that one should accept defeat gracefully and profit by mistakes. No other organization provides a better training ground for democratic processes, or a better appreciation of our free enterprise system."

Awards and other aids to 4-H are provided by American business enterprises on a voluntary basis. Such support has been going on almost since the start of the early 1900's, according to the National 4-H Service Committee. Funds are channeled to 4-H youth through the Committee in cooperation with federal and state extension services of the land-grant universities, and U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Many Scholarships

When the 4-Hers return to home and school, they will have added another dimension to their already well-rounded young lives. They will have experienced fellowship with teenagers from across the nation; better understanding of the anxieties of today's youth; a broader cultural background, and the never-to-be-forgotten "trip to Congress." More than 300 youths will be the richer by scholarships worth $164,000.

Among the 4-H award donors are: American Forest Products Industries; Chevron Chemical; Burlington & Quincy railroad; The Milwaukee road; Chicago & North Western railway; Cities Service Oil Co.; Conrad Hilton Hotel; John Deere; Elgin National Watch; Ford Motor; Homelite; Illinois Central railroad; International Harvester Co.; International Minerals & Chemical Corp. and Livestock Conservation, Inc.

Others are: Massey-Ferguson, Inc.; Edwin T. Meredith foundation; Olin Mathieson Chemical Corp.; Pure Oil; Pyrochemical; Sears-Roebuck foundation; Simplicity S & P Co.; The Singer Co.; The S&H foundation; Standard Brands; Sunbeam Corp.; Tupperware; Upjohn Co. and West Bend Co.

KEY CLUB WINNERS — Morgan county has another five 4-H members admitted to the Key Club by the Illinois 4-H Foundation. They are chosen on the basis of attainment, leadership and community cooperation.

The other Key winners were Jim Burrus and Mary Middendorf.

Hog Cholera Fighters Ponder Big Changes In State Program

The Illinois Hog Cholera Eradication committee has made recommendations for the phasing-out of hog cholera vaccination in Illinois, Robert M. Schneider, director of the Illinois Department of Agriculture, said last week.

George Brauer, Oakford, chairman of the committee, said that the following information was considered in preparing recommendations:

1. Goals of the national hog cholera eradication program, particularly the goal of hog cholera-free by 1972.
2. Decline in incidence of hog cholera in Illinois that appeared to be caused by a virulent field strain of the virus.
3. That hog cholera in Illinois during the last six months appears to be associated with vaccines.

The committee recommends that swine owners with "closed" herds consider discontinuation of a hog cholera vaccination program. A "closed" herd is defined as a swine operation that does not routinely purchase feeder pigs or breeding animals. When it is necessary for such herds to purchase replacement breeding stock, such animals should be under strict isolation for at least three weeks prior to intermingling with an unvaccinated herd.

Eligible For Indemnity Schneider said that swine operators with "closed" herds who desire to continue a vaccination program should have the local veterinarian. Herds are eligible for indemnity in case of hog cholera outbreaks, irrespective of vaccination.

The committee is recommending that the following legal action be taken by the Illinois Department of Agriculture:

1. Beginning Jan. 1, 1968, it will not be compulsory for the Illinois producer to vaccinate his swine against hog cholera prior to sale.
2. After July 1, 1968, require all hog cholera vaccination be performed by licensed veterinarians.
3. Prohibit the sale and use of inactivated hog cholera vaccines in Illinois by Jan. 1, 1968, or as soon thereafter as possible.
4. After Jan. 1, 1969, hog cholera vaccination will be discontinued in Illinois.

Committee Members Members of the Illinois Hog Cholera Eradication committee present at the meeting and concurring in the above recommendations were: Charles Bloomberg, Springfield, executive vice president of the Illinois Pork Producers Association; George Brauer, Oakford, chairman; Dr. Dale Butz, Bloomington, secretary of marketing, Illinois Agricultural association; Dr. J. D. Ray, White Hall;

Dr. J. R. Pickard, Urbana, College of Veterinary Medicine, University of Illinois; Dr. William Hunter, Alexis, chairman of the Illinois State Veterinary Medical association subcommittee on hog cholera eradication; Russell L. Jeckel, Delavan; Dr. Charles L. Clark, Orion; Dr. Paul B. Dohy, Springfield, superintendent of the Illinois division of meat, poultry and livestock inspection.

BRIMFUL and running over

By Jim Brim

Corn harvest is well behind schedule — as everybody knows — and now that we have better weather for a change every one is in a big rush to get caught up by where he feels he should be by this time of year.

Yes — again — haste makes waste and speed leads to accidents. No matter how many times people are warned there are still those who take chances and succumb to injuries.

Due to the rains we have had quite a bit of erosion and there are washes in many fields. Beware of these and other holes. Much of our machinery can be tipped over quite easily.

Another great hazard now is that of possible entanglement in belts, pulleys, chains, etc. Stop all machinery to adjust or lubricate.

TAKE TIME TO GET ALL OF THE CROP YOU HAVE RAISED.

Now you should:
Keep alert.
Buy anti-freeze.
Check tank heaters.
Spray pigs for lice.
Check your chains.
Walk.
Light up and live.

Clean up. Especially around grain storage buildings. Get rid of every possible hiding place for rats and mice. Ratproof buildings. Use concrete, sheet metal, hardware cloth. Don't let them into your grain to contaminate it. We produce good clean grain; let's keep it that way.

Then feed the rats some special food. There are many good rat baits or poisons on the market that are effective and you put it out get bait-shy if you rats don't where its clean and is kept dry.

If you see evidence of rats — chewed on boards, their droppings, burrows, you know you have some. If you see them at night you have quite a few and if you see rats during the daytime you really have a problem.

Everything comes to those who wait — on themselves.

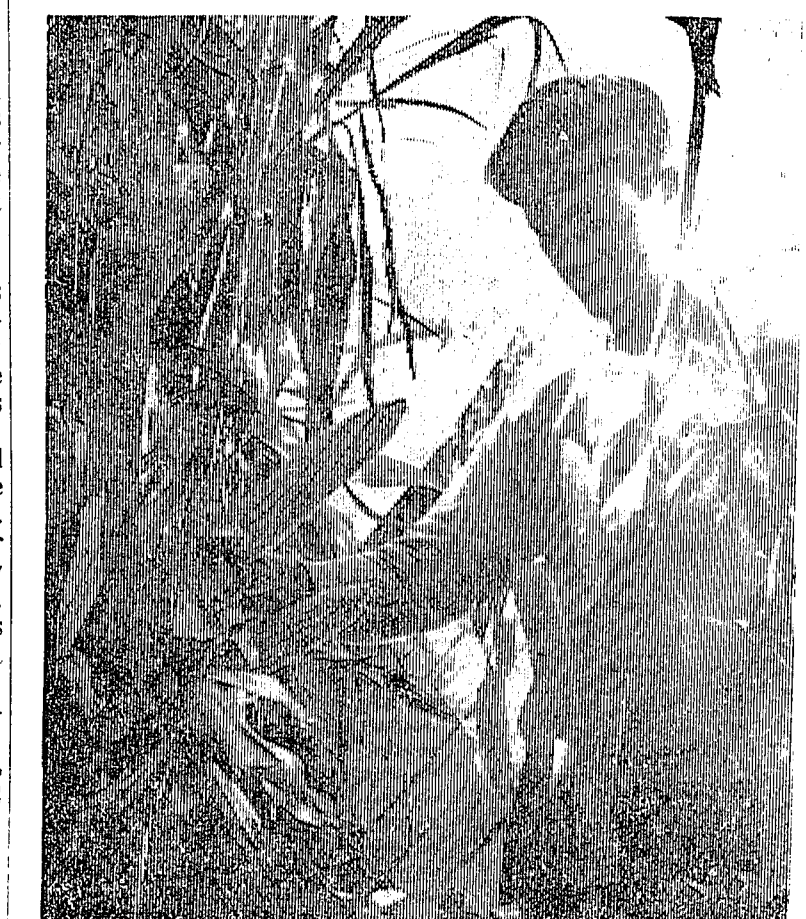

Name Delegates To IAA Meeting

Cary Strang of Murrayville, Farm Bureau president, will lead the Morgan County delegation attending the annual meeting of the Illinois Agricultural association in Chicago this week.

The other delegates are Robert Nickel, Concord; Paul S. Black, route 1; Lloyd E. Smith, Alexander, and Clyde York, route 4.

Alternate delegates are Harold E. Hembrough, route 5; Byron Stewart, route 1; Roy Nickol, Concord; Harold Tomhave, route 3, and Lester E. Martin, Alexander.

Employees who will attend all or part of the four-day proceedings include J. D. Bunting, Alfred Enke and Walter Schuttler of the Service Co.; Jim Henderson, Odell Woodward and Harold Odell insurance division, and John Chambers, Farm Bureau executive secretary.

HOW DOES EXTRA LIGHT affect corn yields? To find out, Steve Winter, U. I. agronomy assistant, placed aluminum reflectors next to border rows of a high-population corn plot. Winter compares an ear of corn produced in the middle of a nearby control plot with two ears that received extra light from reflectors and from being in outside rows. In some plots the yield increased 50 percent compared to normal high-population border rows without reflectors.

IAA, Soybean Group Sign Mutual Aid Pact

The Land of Lincoln Soybean association, the state's largest organization of soybean producers, has signed an agreement with the Illinois Agricultural Association for management and filed services, announces John Chambers, executive secretary, Morgan County Farm Bureau.

The agreement between the soybean association and the IAA, effective Nov. 1, is the latest development in Illinois Farm Bureau's expanding effort to provide maximum marketing assistance to growers of specific commodities.

As a result of the agreement, IAA will:

- Designate a member of the IAA marketing division to serve as manager of the soybean association. His duties will include directing the association's activities, programs, and personnel.
- Provide office facilities and secretarial help to carry out the work of the soybean association. Rooms and facilities will be available at the IAA building in Bloomington for meetings of the soybean association's board of directors.
- Assist in the maintenance of soybean association membership, the collection of membership dues, and the maintenance of records.
- Encourage county Farm Bureaus in the soybean producing areas of Illinois to cooperate in the work of the soybean association and permit Farm Bureau personnel to assist in the membership and promotional activities of the soybean association.

The Land of Lincoln Soybean association was established in 1964 to improve the production, marketing and distribution of soybeans, and to further the utilization of soybeans and soybean products. The organization now has more than 2,000 members.

Illinois produced 159 million bushels of soybeans in 1966 on 5.9 million acres. More than 38 per cent of the beans produced in Illinois go into the export market.

Officers of the association are elected for one-year terms during the association's annual meeting. The annual meeting this year will be held in conjunction with the annual meeting of the IAA in Chicago Nov. 15 in the Sherman House.

Kershaw To Show Steer In Chicago

CHICAGO — Morgan county is among the many Illinois counties from which entries have been received for the 1967 International Live Stock Exposition, to be held here November 17 to 26 in the International Amphitheatre at the Chicago Stock Yards.

Mike Kershaw of Jacksonville will be exhibiting in the Short-horn cattle competitions of this event which will celebrate its 68th anniversary this year.

Officials of the exposition predict record turnouts in many breeds based on the heavy vol-

Hazard Of Fire Increases As Mercury Drops

As outside temperatures drop, indoor fire dangers rise.

Records show that cold weather or always brings an increase in fires, reports O. L. Hogsett, University of Illinois Extension safety specialist.

Heating systems are the main fire cause. When they run for long periods in cold weather, weaknesses in equipment or installation may show up—sometimes with disastrous results. Faulty practices in using a fuel heater, especially a portable kerosene unit, mean trouble.

To keep fire hazards as well as fuel bills down, periodically check and clean your portable heaters and furnace. Hogsett suggests. Likewise, keep flue pipes clean, free of holes and the weak spots, well-supported and away from combustibles.

Place flues in the open and away from nearby surfaces to prevent overheating. Check chimneys for cracks and loose bricks.

Refueling a portable oil heater or calls for care. Never refuel while it is burning or still hot. Avoid overfilling. If coal oil is used, watch for possible burner flooding and flare-up.

Keep portable heaters out of halls and away from doors and stairs where heaters may block escapes. Do not place them near curtains, clothes racks and other combustibles.

Now is the best time to get "fire safe" for the winter — before fire hits. Hogsett emphasizes.

Revise Swine Show Classes At State Fair

Mature boar and sow classes will be eliminated and several other classes will be introduced in the 1968 Illinois State Fair swine show, according to the fair advisory board.

At a recent meeting of the board, it was also resolved to change the "on foot" and "on rail" Land of Lincoln barrow carcass contest by eliminating the "pair of barrows" in the open judging. Premium money formerly used for this class will go to increase awards and add more places in the single barrow classes.

Members of the board attending the meeting at the fairgrounds were Alva Brent, Stanford; Dr. George Fleischli, Springfield; R. B. Best, Eldred; Edward Ryan, Delavan; Paul Miller, Metropolis; Robert Craig, Indianapolis; Jerry Taylor, Prairie City; and superintendent of entries, Jean Roberts, Springfield.

Also present were Franklin Rust, general manager of the fair and Gene Mason, executive secretary of the American Berkshire assn., representing the purebred swine associations.

The board also discussed the possibility of instituting an "on rail" open carcass class in the swine show. The top two barrows of the open class in the early judging will automatically enter the "on rail" class and each exhibitor in the open barrow show, may nominate one barrow for the contest. Land of Lincoln entries may also be considered.

ume of early entries. A total of more than 7,000 heads is anticipated for the competitions that will feature 37 different breeds of cattle, horses, sheep and swine.

Rain, Cloudy Cold Days Slow Harvest

Illinois' all time record corn crop — figured at 1.1 billion bushels — is still a long ways from being in the crib or the bin. The harvest is two weeks behind that of last year — and four weeks behind the average.

Morgan county farmers moved ahead of some sections of the state last week, with many getting in as much as four full days and most getting in three.

But this came to an end Friday morning and nobody knows when he'll get back on his picker.

It has been rain and rain and cloudy weather in all parts of the state. Many sections got more rain in the first week of November than is normal for the month. Somewhere in the state it rained every day for the last six days of October and the first six days of November.

And when it wasn't raining it was still cloudy. The crop reporter at Marengo, McHenry county, at the extreme northeastern edge of the state, reported only 10 minutes of sunshine in one week. And it has been cold. In west central Illinois the temperature was 2 to 6 degrees below normal for four weeks in a row, with somewhat better conditions last week.

Some older observers said this harvest season was "as bad so far as 1941 and 1945." In those years many soybeans were harvested in December and a considerable acreage of corn in January.

As the harvest period lengthens field losses will increase, due to the excessive moisture, and earlier insect disease and wind damage.

The soybean harvest in this area is nearly finished, with only an occasional field here and there awaiting the combine.

An estimated 5 to 10 percent of the massive Illinois crop is still in the field. This is particularly true in the northern counties.

ACROSS THE FIELDS AND FURROWS

with ED GARLICH
HOLIDAY FARE

"When the frost is on the pumpkin and the fudders in the stock," is the time when most people start thinking of the holiday season and the feasting that goes with it.

The traditional mainstay of holiday festivities has been turkey, and turkey producers are expecting this year to be bigger than ever in volume of sales.

We'll probably set a new record for turkey meat consumption this year—nine pounds per person compared with eight pounds last year.

The number of turkeys raised in 1967 will reach over 125 million—3 per cent above last year—quite adequate to set the holiday season in style.

My wife looked on, stunned and then indignant, as I put the tip of a finger, cautiously and lightly, on the surface of the bowl of steaming oatmeal she had placed before me on the breakfast table. MODERN MOSCOW is beginning to look, at least in parts, like an up-to-date Western city. One of the most striking new buildings in the Soviet capital is the Dom Knigle, or Home of Books, above. But inside, below, it's not so exciting. Merchandise runs heavily to pedestrian portraits of Soviet leaders.

Six Accidents In Seven Hours On City Streets

Four drivers were ticketed and 12 autos damaged in six accidents on city streets between 11:45 a.m. and 7 p.m. Friday.

Hiram Day, 603 Hardin, was ticketed for failure to yield the right of way in the first mishap which occurred at the intersection of Dunlap Court and West College. Police said Day was attempting to cross College when he pulled into the path of a car driven by Mrs. Marian Clay of 218 North Clay. A ticket for a similar violation was issued to Marjorie Lebkuecher of Route 1, Beards-town, following a collision at South Main and Morton. Officers said Mrs. Lebkuecher turned into the path of a north-bound auto operated by Larry Stucker of Route 2, Virginia. Stucker's auto was towed away.

The third mishap occurred on East Morton in the 500 block. A car driven by Leon Miner of Waverly was turning into a drive and was struck from behind by a car driven by Minnie Littig of 924 West State. The Littig auto was towed from the scene.

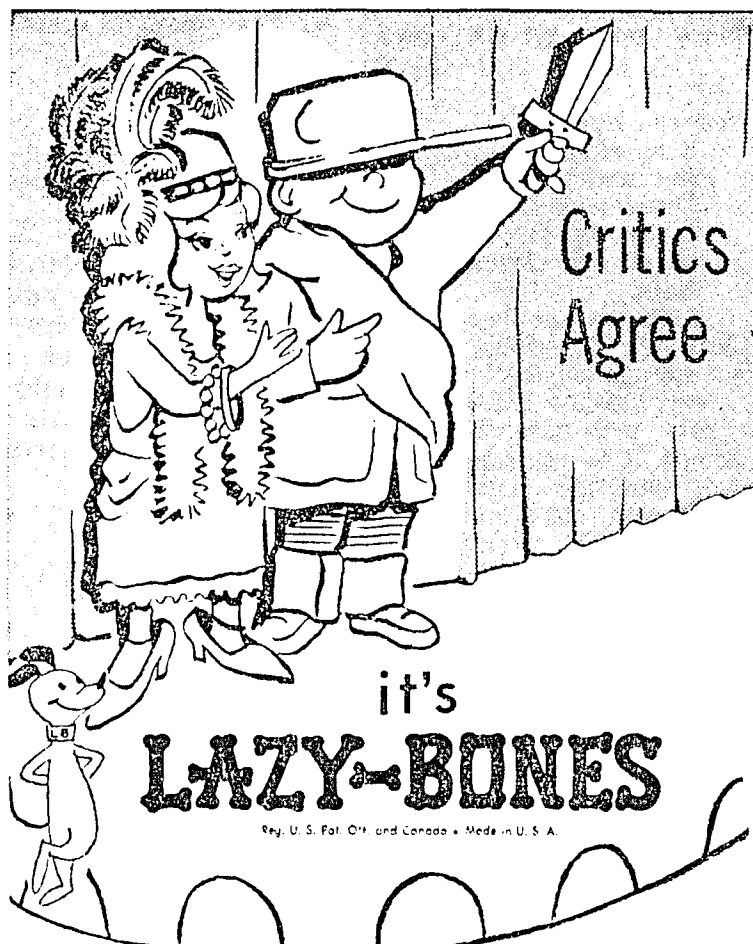

Another citation for failure to yield the right of way was issued after an accident on East College at South East Street. Harry Hoster of Route 1, Alexander received the ticket. He was reportedly southbound when he pulled into the path of a car driven by Edward Beavers of 1040 North Church.

West College at South West College said the fifth collision. City police said Rex Harr of Route 1, Greenfield, was making a left turn onto College when his car collided with an auto operated by Robert Coon of Winchester. Harr was ticketed for making an improper left turn.

The sixth accident happened about 7 p.m. Friday in the 500 block of North Prairie. A south-bound auto driven by James R. Ware of 1204 West College was making a left turn into a private drive and collided with a northbound auto driven by Elizabeth J. Elie of 1848 Mound Avenue. Both cars left the scene under their own power. There were no injuries in any of these accidents.

Older Days In Virginia

By GRACE T. HOLMES

It was a steamy hot day and the crowd at the World's Fair, in St. Louis in 1904, pushed its way around every stand where they could get a cold drink or something cooling. The demand for ice cream was so great and the supply, served in the only known way, in dishes, that when there were no more dishes the situation looked hopeless.

Ernest Hamwi ran a concession nearby at which he sold a wafer-like pastry called Zabalia. Sizing up the situation the ingenious Mr. Hamwi quickly rolled one of his waffles into the shape of a cornucopia or cone, which hardened quickly as it cooled. The ice cream vendor filled the cone with ice cream and handed it to an eager customer. The reaction was spontaneous and it was called "World's Fair Cornucopia" which later became the ice cream cone.

Mr. Hamwi was not a military or political figure and had nothing to do with the invention of the motor car, or television but he will remain an unsung hero of American history. A statue could well be erected honoring this man who quite by accident invented the ice cream cone, which became an American institution, enjoyed by old and young.

The Chafing Dish

At the turn of the century, a "Chafing Dish" craze was experienced by a number of young ladies who enjoyed experimenting with the recipes from the book accompanying their new dish. Two or three of the girls met at one home in the evening and when they felt they had perfected a recipe, they invited a number of friends to a "Chafing Dish Party."

The Welsh Rarebit proved to be the outstanding treat.

Many homes must have these dishes hidden away in dark corners. The dish held three points. It was nickel plated and stood upon three legs. Below the dish a small alcohol burner was secured and this furnished heat for cooking the contents of the dish.

Young people who have run out of home entertainment might enjoy the revival of a Chafing Dish Party.

Hard And Soft Water

There was no such thing as city water. There was a stock well with a deep wooden trough to be filled with water for the stock. A well closer to the house from which the family secured drinking water and used it for cooking purposes.

This water was very hard and the owner of the house made "valleys" by nailing two narrow boards together to run the water into barrels put around the house in the best places to catch the water when it rained. This was used for many purposes for which hard water could not be used. When it rained enough to almost fill the barrel and the water stood for several days, when a youngster looked in the barrel he saw many little creatures we called "wiggles" and when you hollered in the barrel these scurried to the bottom of it. This was the source of much amusement for many children. They watched for the wiggles to come back to the top and then repeated the performance. Wonder if this gave the author of the song, "You Can't Holler Down My Rain Barrel," the idea for the lines?

The cultivation of fine pearls is totally dependent upon natural conditions. Changes in weather, water temperatures, currents or natural food supplies affect the quality of the pearl.

The Mormon apostle, Richards, is preaching in Glasgow. He urges the faithful to emigrate as soon as possible to Utah. If a whole family cannot go at once, let one go and help the rest. A pretty Mormon girl could go to Utah, and when some well-to-do saint made up to her, she could make her marrying him conditional on his sending for the rest of her family. If he was reluctant to do this she must refuse him, and she would soon find a more generous wooer.

From the Jacksonville Sentinel:

The city will again vote on the proposal to bring the St. Louis, Jacksonville & Chicago machine shops here. This should be passed by a large majority, as it will make for the employment of several hundred mechanics (that will at once add considerable to our population, while their productive industry cannot fail to add to the aggregate growth and prosperity of our city. The election will come off Dec. 10th.

Our sanctum was yesterday brightened by the pleasant visage of Capt. George W. Fanning, the newly elected Treasurer and Assessor. The Capt. proved a fast nag in the recent election and will make an excellent and popular officer.

From the Carrollton Gazette:

We are told that the managers of our railroad has proposed to the city of Jacksonville, that if they will subscribe seventy thousand dollars, the machine shops of the road shall be located there in the next six months. We regret that our people have been so cold in the matter as to let the opportunity for our city's improvement to pass by.

Illinois Farm OUTLOOK

BUILDUP OF GRAIN SHOWN BY CARRYOVER

The carryover of old corn this fall was far larger than had been generally expected a year ago. According to the USDA, stocks of old corn on hand October 1 totaled 817 million bushels — nearly twice as much as same market observers expected on the basis of figures available.

The estimated carryover of 817 million bushels of old corn was only 3 percent less than a year before, but it was 60 percent less than the record carryover (2,016 million bushels) on hand 6 years ago.

Of this carryover, 176 million bushels is under resale price support loans and 139 million bushels is held by the CCC. This leaves about 500 million bushels of "free" corn — that is, corn in private hands.

The carryover plus the new crop (estimated at 4,717 million bushels in October) make a total supply of some 5,535 million bushels. This amount is 12 percent more than the supply available a year ago.

It now appears that the disappearance of corn during the last marketing year was 4,127 million bushels. That is 6 percent less than the record disappearance in the previous year, but is in line with the rising trend over the past 6 years.

The disappearance of corn seems likely to be around 4.2 billion bushels in this marketing year. Such a rate of use and exports would leave about 1,300 million bushels for carryover next fall.

Large amounts of this year's corn crop may be lost in the fields. This loss, plus unforeseen developments, could hold the carryover next fall to 1,200 million bushels, or even less.

Sorghum, oats, and barley.

The carryover of sorghum grain was estimated at 245 million bushels—37 percent less than a year earlier. In October, the 1967 crop was estimated at 789 million bushels — up 10 percent from last year. Hence, the supply of sorghum grain totals 1,034 million bushels — down 7 percent from a year ago.

On October 1, the stocks of oats totaled 733 million bushels—down 5 percent from last year. Barley stocks were 378 million bushels — off 2 percent.

Total feed grains. The total supply of the four feed grains (corn, sorghum, oats, and barley) amounts to 206 million tons — 7 percent more than a year ago. The use and exports of feed grains is not likely to increase more than 2 or 3 percent, so the carryover stocks are expected to be larger next year.

Wheat. The stocks of wheat on hand as of October 1 were estimated at 1,565 million bushels. This amount is 9 percent more than a year before, but 20 percent less than the 5-year, 1961-65 average.

Apparently, the disappearance of wheat during the July-September quarter was around 415 million bushels — up 2 percent from a year earlier. Perhaps this increase was caused by feeding more wheat to livestock. Export shipments probably were about 190 million bushels — 20 million less than during the same 3 months last year. Exports have been down because production in many other countries has increased since 1965.

Oregon State Upsets USC 3-0

IC Drops Fifth, 28-13

Beavers Continue To Notch Upsets

CORVALLIS, Ore. (AP) — Mike Haggard's 30-yard field goal in the second quarter gave Oregon State a 3-0 upset victory over top-ranked Southern California Saturday, despite O. J. Simpson's 183 yards gained rushing.

The Beavers, who earlier in the season upset second-ranked Purdue, and last week tied UCLA, No. 2 at the time, got the game's only points with 5:05 left in the first half when Haggard made his first of three field goal attempts.

With 18 seconds left in the half, Haggard missed on a 28-yard field goal attempt and failed again in the fourth quarter on a 45-yard attempt.

USC's Rikki Aldridge missed on a 36-yard attempt in the first quarter. Beaver Linebacker Skip Vanderbundt set up the field goal by recovering Steve Sogge's fumble on the USC 48.

Then the OSU attack was three yards and a splash of mud until the Beavers got within field goal range.

Simpson threatened to run away with the game in the first half, racking up 131 yards on 18 carries. His longest run was 38 yards in the second quarter.

Oregon State's 230-pound fullback, Bill Enyart, gained over 100 yards—including 47 on a run ended by his fumble on the USC 19.

Southern California got across the midfield stripe—to the Oregon State 49—only once in the second half.

The Trojans, now 8-1, meet UCLA this week. Oregon State, now 6-2-1, ends the season this week against Oregon.

Notre Dame Counts Easy 38-0 Margin

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Notre Dame's Terry Hanratty ran for two touchdowns and elusive Tom Schoen ripped off a 70-yard punt return Saturday, leading the Irish to a 38-0 conquest of outclassed Pitt.

Hanratty was given plenty of time by his forward wall on passes, connecting on eight of 13 passes for 120 yards before leaving to rest midway through the third period. But all of Notre Dame's touchdowns came on the ground.

He also set up Notre Dame's second touchdown with a 20-yard return and a field goal with a 13-yard return.

Schoen intercepted a pass and returned it 40 yards just before the half, but time ran out before the Irish could score.

The Notre Dame back crashed through the porous Pitt defense for a total of 284 yards running.

Pitt could gain only 15 yards on the ground.

Notre Dame 14 10 6 8-38
Pittsburgh 0 0 0 0-0

John Englebrecht scored on a four-yard carry for Havana in the third, and also legged the point after for all the margin the Ducks needed.

Thomas hauled in another ten-yard pass from Speckter for the game's final score, in the fourth quarter.

Havana closed out the season with a 3-5-1 overall mark and a 1-4 Spoon River slate. Lewistown finished with an 0-5 loop record.

Wildcats Score Four In Second For 39-24 Margin

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—North- led by halfback Chico Kurzwinski, scored four second-quarter touchdowns in a span of fewer than seven minutes, and humbled Iowa 39-24 Saturday in a Big Ten football game.

Iowa opened the scoring with a one-yard touchdown play by Silas McKinnie to take a 7-0 lead.

Northwestern scored on a safety and a field goal before searching 76 yards to take a 12-7 lead on Kurzwinski's short 1 smash.

This gave Northwestern the opportunity to employ the on-side kick which the Wildcats used to perfection.

The Wildcats recovered two of Tom Garretson's on-side kick-offs, one grabbed by Dennis White and the other by Dennis Coyne and turned them into touchdowns.

After Iowa scored on Bob Anderson's 32-yard field goal near the end of the first half, the Hawkeyes also tried an on-side kickoff. It backfired as 1 Northwestern got the ball and moved 52 yards in 37 seconds for still another touchdown and a 32-10 halftime lead.

The play which really turned the game around came after Northwestern's first on-side kick.

Gaining only four yards in three plays, Northwestern went into 3 punt formation. Kurzwinski, however, threw a 33-yard pass to Dennis Boethe to the Iowa 46 and quarterback Bill Melzer scooted across the next play.

Despite trailing 32-10, Iowa never quit fighting.

The Hawkeyes scored early in the second half on a 12-yard pass from Mike Cilek to Al Bream to come within 16 points. They were in possession again in the fourth quarter when Ed Paquette grabbed a Cilek fumble to set up the final Northwestern touchdown. This came on Kurzwinski's 2-yard smash.

FINAL THOUGHTS ON GRID SEASON

Final thoughts on the almost-completed football season in Jacksonville and the area:

First of all, congratulations to the two undefeated and untied football teams in the area; Routt and Pittsfield. A look at their final records makes it easy to understand how each was able to record a 9-0 record.

The two clubs ran one-two in offense and defense for area football clubs. Pittsfield was defensively best, allowing only six points, and that in the final game. Routt gave up only 25 points to rate second best. The Rockets were tops in scoring with 285 points, the second highest scoring outfit in the history of the school, while the Southees pushed across 265 points.

THE BIGGEST disappointment in the area has to be the Jacksonville Crimsons. We can't believe that they played up to near their physical potential in their 3-4-2 season. We have seen JHS put winning ball clubs on the field in the past that did not have as much on paper. But, of course, games aren't won on paper.

Two of the most exciting football players we have had the pleasure to watch in Jacksonville were Illinois College's Tom Rowland and Routt fullback Paul Lambert. Both played as big a role as one man can play on a football team.

SPEAKING of Lambert, the 180-pound senior is probably the leading candidate from this area for Little All-state honors. He gained over 1,000 yards rushing and played a lot on defense. Charles Gaige of Greenfield is the only other area prep runner that we know of to pick up over 1,000 yards this season.

FANS at the last two IC home games may have thought that three of the Blueboys' best plays in those games have been busted plays. They were not. The play, in which Rowland starts a wide sweep to one side then makes a wide reverse in the opposite, went for two good gains against Lake Forest, and sent Rowland on a 60-yard touchdown gallop against William Penn. After the play was originated in an IC huddle last year, it has been in the Blueboys' book all season.

IC COACH Joe Brooks must have winced each time he saw William Penn's Buddy White and Frank Stoutmeyer give his Blueboys headaches Saturday. Both come from Brooks' hometown of Madison, Maine, where Brooks spends most of his summer. The small town has three players on the William Penn squad, with White and Stoutmeyer playing big roles in IC's 28-13 loss Saturday.

A FOOTBALL player was the recipient of the first William J. Downer Memorial Athletic plaque at Illinois College Saturday. The memorial plaque was awarded to senior halfback Phil Snowden at halftime. Nominations for the award are made by the members of each varsity team, with all varsity members voting on the final recipient. The award was set up recently in the honor of the late William J. Downer, by his sons Bob and Jim, both former IC athletes, and Mrs. Downer.

FOOTBALL will be one of the main topics at the JHS Boosters Club fall banquet Thursday night at the Blackhawk, for the Crimson football and cross country teams. IC grid coach Joe Brooks will be the featured speaker.

Patterson, Rockets Rip Beardstown 27-6

BEARDSTOWN — Quarterback Rick Patterson passed for three touchdowns in powering one-beaten Rushville to a 27-6 season-finishing triumph over Beardstown, here Saturday afternoon.

The game counted in both the Spoon River and Midwest conferences. The win allowed the Rockets to capture the Spoon River championship with a 4-0 record, and to finish second in the Midwest with a 3-1 slate. Beardstown finished in a tie for second in the Spoon River, with a 3-2 mark. Rushville finished 3-1 overall to Beardstown's 6-3.

Angelo Sparks EIU To 20-15 Upset Victory

CHARLESTON, Ill. (AP) — Eastern Illinois wrapped up its season on a winning note Saturday by handing Wayne State of Michigan a 20-14 nonconference football loss. It was State's first defeat of the season.

Eastern cruised to its victory on the exciting running of halfback Larry Angelo, a Jacksonville graduate. He picked up 92 yards on the ground and 57 yards on pass catching and scored one touchdown.

Eastern won two of its last three games and closed out the year with a 2-6-1 record. Wayne State is 7-1.

The winning Panthers picked up 206 yards on the ground and 124 in the air for a total of 332. The Tartars were held to 121 yards on the ground and 108 yards passing for 229 yards.

WESLEYAN 22, ST. JOSEPH'S 3
BLOOMINGTON, Ill. (AP) — Illinois Wesleyan closed its football season Saturday by defeating three second-half touchdowns and a 22-3 victory over St. Joseph's College of Indiana.

Wesleyan finished with a 7-2 record.

QB Leads Tough Penn Offensive

By BUFORD GREEN
Sports Editor

Quarterback Stan Allsop sparked a powerful William Penn offense that rolled up almost 500 yards enroute to 28-13 victory over Illinois College, on the IC field Saturday afternoon.

Allsop, a classy 175-pound sophomore, connected on 15 of 21 passes for 222 yards to open the Illinois College defense up for a group of hard-running backs that ground out 253 more yards.

Fullback Don Tarr, a 208-pound soph, ripped the Blueboys for three touchdowns in picking up 140 yards in 21 carries. Tarr's two fourth-period touchdowns killed any Illinois College chances of coming back from a 14-0 halftime deficit.

The huge William Penn club, which closed out a 4-5 season Saturday, was able to control most of the first three quarters, despite several fine defensive efforts by the losers, who dropped to 1-5-1 with one game left.

After the Statesmen from Oscaloosa, Iowa rolled to a 14-0 halftime lead, IC struck back for a third-period score to get within range. Penn then came back for a clinching score with six minutes left to nullify a 60-yard scoring gallop by IC's Tom Rowland with just over two minutes to play.

IC Moves On Ground
Illinois College managed a potent ground offensive against the larger Statesmen, picking up 200 yards, 146 in 18 tries by Rowland, who continued his better than 100-yards-per game average. But, for the sixth time in seven games the Blueboys, using three quarterbacks, were unable to pose a passing threat, completing only two of 19 for 16 yards.

IC mounted the only scoring threat in the initial quarter. The Blueboys marched behind Rowland and Larry Herrick, 41 yards in 12 carries for the afternoon, from 50 to the 20 in 16 plays before Rowland's field goal try from there sailed short and wide to the right with :48 to play in the frame.

A fumble recovery by John Frazier on the Blueboys' 42 early in the second frame was wasted in four downs that failed to pick up a yard.

Penn Starts To Move
On the following series William Penn put its offensive machine in motion, moving 72 yards in 11 plays for a score with eight minutes left in the half. Tarr did the leg work on four plays and Allsop completed four straight passes for 43 yards, the last one a TD toss of two yards to end Ed Williamson after a fake dive play on fourth and goal. Buddy White booted the first of four straight extra points.

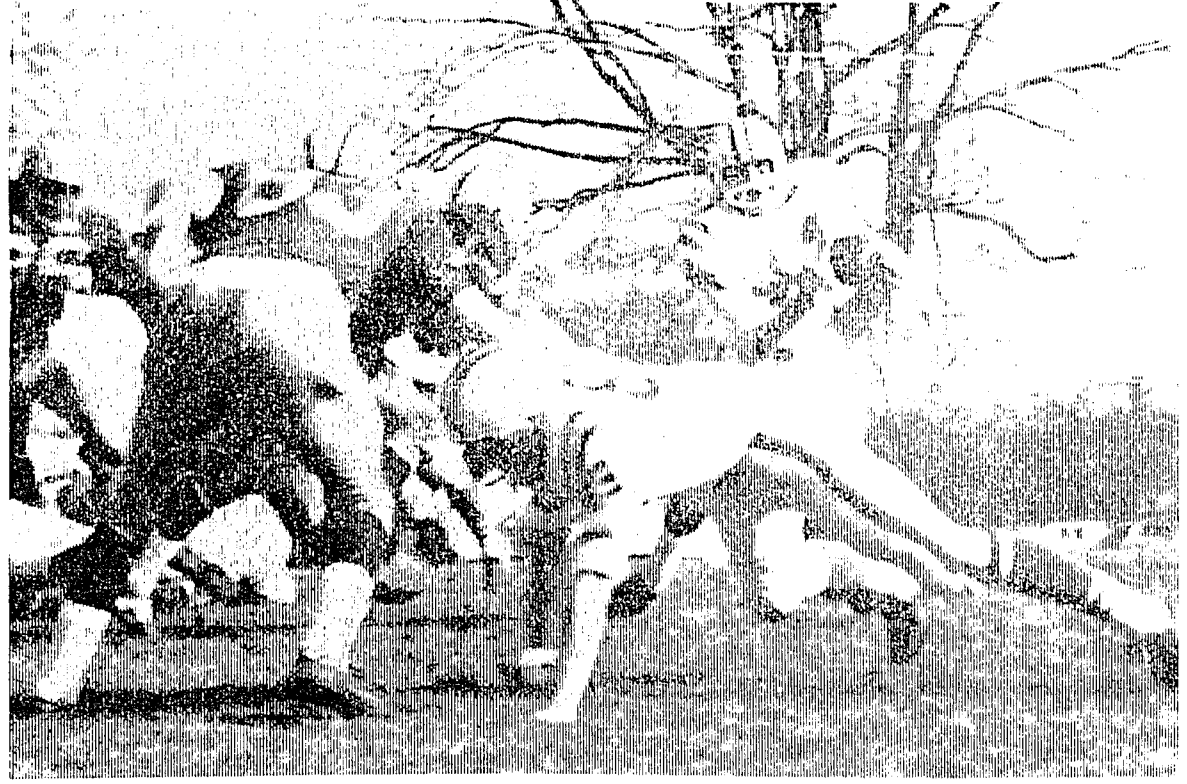

Later in the period the Statesmen again put together a mixed offense that moved the ball 75 yards in 14 plays, with Allsop hitting five of six passes for 89 yards, offsetting three penalties against the visitors. Tarr punched the ball from the five to the two in three plays then swept left end for the score with 29 seconds to play.

Penn moved quickly from its own 20 to the IC 24 in only four plays late in the third quarter before the Blueboys held off the Statesmen's scoring threat on three running plays.

IC Breaks Ice
Late in the third IC started its first scoring drive, moving from its own 27 to paydirt in nine plays. Five straight first downs were recorded by Rowland, on runs of 11, 7, 12 and 3, and freshman quarterback Oscar Young, to the Penn 15 with the help of two walkoffs against the visitors.

Young rolled out to his left for the final four yards and the score, with 2:26 showing in the frame. Rowland's boot for the point after was wide to the left.

An Allsop to Bill Kimloch pass picked up 45 yards on one play's midway through the fourth quarter for the score that all but wrapped up the final decision. Tarr and Frank Stoutmeyer punched out the ground yard-

IC'S BREAD AND BUTTER: Halfback Tom Rowland starts out on an end run that collected nine yards in first half of William Penn's 28-13 victory over Illinois College Saturday. Rowland picked up 146 yards in 18 carries, including a 60-yard touchdown gallop in the fourth quarter. Mark Browning is shown throwing a block here for Rowland.

Last-Ditch Rally Wins For Indiana

Hoosiers Pull Out 14-13 Edge

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Power driving John Isenbarger ignited a last ditch, 69-yard Indiana scoring drive Saturday as the Hoosiers surged from behind to topple Michigan State 14-13 and remain among the nation's unbeaten teams.

Isenbarger accounted for 58 yards in the final scoring drive and banged through from the seven with less than three minutes left.

Michigan State, which absorbed its fourth straight setback, staged a two-minute, 10-point blitz early in the third period to surge into a 13-7 lead which looked good until Isenbarger took charge.

MSU, which grabbed an early 3-0 lead on the first field goal senior Mitch Pruett ever kicked, saw Indiana surge into the lead 7-3 as the Hoosiers marched 70 yards with the second half kickoff. Quarterback Harry Gonso went over for the final yard on the 70-yard drive.

Michigan State bounced back with a safety and a 32-yard scoring drive that saw Dwight Lee score from the four for MSU's go ahead touchdown.

A two point conversion sent Michigan State out in front 13-7 but then Isenbarger took over.

Indiana staged another last second threat as it drove to the MSU five before the clock ran out.

Indiana, stunned by MSU's 10-point outburst, seemed destined for its first loss before Isenbarger got the Hoosiers started from their 31. He had carries of 13, 14, and 12 yards and caught a 15-yard pass from Gonso to speed the Hoosiers toward pay dirt.

Come to Life
Still bidding for an unbeaten season, a Big Ten title and a Rose Bowl trip, Indiana came to life under Isenbarger's spark.

The Hoosiers tore the MSU defense to shreds as they banged in for the winning touchdown and intercepted a desperation MSU pass in the final minute to nip any MSU chance of a score.

Indiana, starting from the MSU 37, moved to the Spartan five with a second down and goal to go as the game ended.

Michigan State, now 2-6 overall and 2-3 in Big Ten play, finally got untracked in the third period and for five minutes showed some power like Spartans of other seasons.

Trailing 7-3, MSU got back into the tussle as Big George Challos hit Gonso with a bruising tackle that dropped the Hoosier quarterback in his end zone for a safety to make it 7-5.

Aided by a 15-yard personal foul penalty, MSU took the ball after Indiana's free kick and zoomed back for a go-ahead touchdown with Lee going over.

A two-point conversion on a Charlie Wedemeyer to Al Brenner pass gave MSU its 13-7 lead.

From then on it was Indiana's ball game as Isenbarger, with help from Gonso and halfback Mike Krivosia teamed up to give Indiana its eighth straight victory and its fifth straight in Big Ten play.

Keyes got his first touchdown on a two-yard run but Hubert Bryant of the Gophers broke loose for a 57-yard scamper down the sidelines and Minnesota led 10-7 at the end of the first period.

Purdue sewed up the game in the second quarter, Keyes knifing three yards for one touchdown and Mike Phipps hitting Jim Beirne with a 27-yard scoring pass for another.

The Boilermakers punched over another touchdown in the third period, a plunge by Perry Williams, and two in the final quarter—an eight-yard run by Keyes and one by the reserves.

Minnesota's only scoring in the second half came on a safety.

Keyes' three TDs gave him a total of 15 over-all. He was the nation's leading scorer coming into the game.

Keyes And Purdue Rip Gophers 41-12

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP) — Purdue buried Minnesota's Gophers 41-12 Saturday in rain and mud and its fabulous Leroy Keyes broke a 24-year-old Big Ten one-season scoring record with his 12th, 13th, and 14th conference touchdowns of the year.

Purdue came from behind twice in the first half before inflicting Minnesota's first Big Ten loss of the year. It left Purdue, ineligible for the Rose Bowl as the 1967 entrant, tied with Indiana, a 14-13 winner at Michigan State, at the top of the conference standings. Both stand 5-0 in the conference.

Minnesota's Bob Stein kicked a 31-yard field goal in the first quarter to open the scoring.

From there William Penn moved to the 15 before John Frazier and Bill Templin broke through to throw Allsop back to the 29 on third down.

Two series later Rowland took off to the left then reversed his field to the left and scampered 60 yards for a touchdown, breaking out of several tackles enroute. Rowland then booted the PAT for a 21-13 count with 2:22 to play.

Tarr got loose on a 46-yard scoring burst three plays later to erase any doubt, with only 47 seconds showing.

Thirteen seniors made their final home appearance for the Blueboys. There were Phil Snowden, Jerry Sapp, Larry Herrick, Tom Rowland, Mike Lehman, Denny Watson, Ed Price, Terry Lehman, Ben Todaro, Marlon Owens, Fred Hardwick, Terry Allen and Dan Runkle.

Houston Rallies For 35-18 Margin In Astrodome

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston built a powerful come-from-behind attack around the speed of Paul Gipson and Warren McVea and the passing of Dick Woodall as the 10th ranked Cougars defeated Memphis State 35-18 Saturday night in the Astrodome.

State crossed midfield only once in the first half but Houston could not get its explosive attack under way until after the Tigers had taken a 6-0 lead on a 43-yard pass from Ricky Thurman to Richard Coady early in the second quarter.

Gipson, netting 151 yards in 22 plays, scored three touchdowns and Woodall passed 52 yards to Calvin Achey for another as the Cougars struck back for their sixth victory in eight starts.

McVea, bothered much of the season with injuries, did not work his way into the end zone, but he gained 109 yards in 15 plays, included were 50 yards in six carries during the 77-yard surge that gave Houston a 7-6 halftime lead. The San Antonio speedster also took a 12-yard pass from Woodall for a key fourth down play that gave the Cougars new life at the Memphis seven as Houston moved to its second and clinching touchdown.

Michigan Rally Nips Illini 21-14

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. AP — A 15-yard toss to Craig Timke enlivened the drive.

Michigan's first touchdown in the third quarter came minutes after the Wolverines were stopped on the Illini 8, following Gerald Hartman's recovery of Rich Johnson's fumble on the Illini 8.

The Wolverines then took the ball on the Illini 36 after a punt and marched across in seven plays.

Brown hit Jim Mandich for eight yards and Garvie Crawford for 11. Barline finally scored with Brown's 12-yard pass. Frank Titas' conversion kick was wide, leaving Illinois ahead 14-0.

Then came Hoy's punt return touchdown to turn the game around.

Michigan's Johnson gained 61 yards rushing, nine short of Tom Harmon's school season record of 824 set in 1939. Johnson now has an eight-game total of 876 rushing yards.

The victory was Michigan's 20th in the Big Ten — the first school to reach this figure.

Michigan 21, Illinois 14.

Illinois scored twice in the first half after pass interceptions.

In the first quarter, Ron Bass filched a Brown aerial and the Illini thrust 36 yards in six plays. Rich Johnson bolted the final 14 and Dan Mc Kistie added the first of his two extra points.

Terry Miller stole another Brown punch in the second quarter on the Michigan 29. After an offside penalty, the Illini scored in six plays on Johnson's run from the 7-yard line. Volkman's

Packers, Browns In NFL Headliner

By ED SCHUYLER Jr., Associated Press Sports Writer

Battered Frank Ryan, tough in the clutch despite a series of injuries this season, faces another big test Sunday when he leads the Cleveland Browns against the Green Bay Packers, whose offensive backfield is not exactly a picture of health, either.

The canny Ryan, who has been plagued with injuries to his legs, ribs and throwing arm, still has passed for 17 touchdowns while guiding the Browns, 5-0, to a first-place tie with St. Louis in the Century Division of the National Football League's Eastern Conference.

Green Bay will be without the services of bread-and-butter runner Elijah Pitts and fullback Jim Grabowski, but unfortunately, for Ryan, the Packers defense — the NFL's best — is in good shape.

Grabbo May Return

Pitts tore an Achilles tendon in his right heel and Grabowski suffered an injury to his right knee in last Sunday's 13-10 loss to Baltimore. Pitts, probably out for the season, will be replaced by Donnie Anderson and Grabowski, sidelined until at least Nov. 19, will be replaced by Ben Wilson.

The fact that Green Bay, 5-1, lost last Sunday and that the game is at Milwaukee, Wis., should not make life any happier for Ryan.

In other NFL games, all Sunday, Pittsburgh, 2-6-0, is at St. Louis, 5-3-0; Baltimore, 6-0-2, at Atlanta, 1-6-1; Philadelphia, 4-4-0, at Los Angeles, 5-1-2; Detroit, 3-4-1, at Minnesota, 2-5-1; Chicago, 3-5-0 at New York, 4-4-0; Dallas, 6-2-0, at New Orleans, 1-7-0, and San Francisco, 5-3-0, at Washington, 2-4-2.

Buffalo is at New York, Houston at Denver, Kansas City at Boston and Miami at San Diego Sunday in the American Football League. Oakland has a bye.

Cards Could Take Lead

St. Louis has a good chance to take over sole possession of first place in the Century Division should Cleveland falter against Green Bay. With Johnny Roland, the No. 2 rushing leader behind Cleveland's Leroy Kelly, and steadily improving Jim Hart at quarterback, the Cardinals figure to get past frustrated Pittsburgh.

Baltimore, the only unbeaten NFL team, figures to continue that way, although you can be sure the Colts will be remembering that they just squeaked by the Falcons 38-31 in Baltimore earlier this year. Defensive back Bobby Boyd will be lost to the Colts with a shoulder injury.

Los Angeles, just one game behind Baltimore in the Western Conference's Coastal Division, will be meeting a physically sub-par Philadelphia team.

Bob Brown, the Eagles' All-League offensive tackle, is out for the season with an injured knee suffered in last week's 21-24 upset loss to New Orleans. Defensive back Ron Medved also suffered a knee injury and tight end Mike Ditka a leg injury in the New Orleans game and are out indefinitely.

Lions Must Win

Detroit, which seems to lose when it is the favorite, is just that against Minnesota, and this time the Lions will have to win if they are to stay in contention in the Western Conference's Central Division.

Detroit is second, two games behind the Packers, and a half-game ahead of Chicago. Minnesota, last in the division, could make it a real battle for second place honors by winning.

New York will be making its first appearance in Chicago since losing the 1963 title game to the Bears.

The Giants, a game behind Cleveland and St. Louis in the Century, must win, and they must stop Gale Sayers, especially on kick returns to do it. Kick and punt returns led to New York's downfall in last Sunday's 27-24 loss to Minnesota.

Dallas, ahead by two games over Philadelphia in the Eastern Conference's Central Division, had trouble beating New Orleans 14-10 in their first meeting. But veteran quarterback Don Meredith is healthy this time.

San Francisco badly needs a victory to stay in the Coastal Division running, should the Colts and Rams falter. Washington has little hope left in the Capital, but a victory would help the Redskins' pride.

Arnie Keeps Front In World Cup

MEXICO CITY AP — Arnold Palmer carved a one-under par 71 Saturday and continued his drive toward the individual title in the 15th World Cup Golf Tournament with a 54-hole total of 209.

Palmer's seven-under score for three trips around the Club de Golf Mexico course left him three strokes ahead of the international field.

Palmer has never won the individual title although he has played on five World Cup championship teams.

Jack Nicklaus shot a sparkling 69 on the narrow, tree-lined, 7,230-yard course and increased the American team lead to nine strokes over Argentina, 421-430.

Nicklaus is tied for second in the individual standings with Fidel de Luca of Argentina, each at 212.

De Luca, a last-minute substitute for the ailing Roberto de Vicenzo, shot a third round 68, best of the day.

David Jimenez of Puerto Rico, a neophyte professional who was momentarily tied with Palmer while playing the back nine, caved in to the pressure with a double-bogey bogey on 14 and 15 but still carded a 70 that put him in a third place tie at 213 with Bob Charles of New Zealand.

De Luca putted magnificently, hitting the cup from 45, 35 and 30 feet while carding six birdies and two bogies for his 68-64-68 that matched the opening day rounds of Palmer and Argentine teammate Florentino Molina.

Palmer, who got sand in his eye blasting out of a trap Friday, was apparently still bothered by an eye irritation and often rubbed the left eye as he toured the beautiful course.

He missed three easy birdie putts on the front nine, leaving the ball short each time.

2 Area Schools Among State's Final Unbeaten

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. AP — Three unbeaten teams — Lawrenceville, Effingham and Mt. Zion — slipped Friday in the final game of the 1-67 Illinois high school football season.

Although some teams schedule Thanksgiving Day foes and other have traditional late season rivals to encounter, most outbursts are through for the year.

A scoreless tie with Pana spoiled a second consecutive undefeated season for Effingham, the Midstate Conference champion.

Mt. Zion, one-undefeated, but seeking its second unbeaten year in a row, was nipped by Champaign Centennial 9-7. Mt. Zion is the Central Illinois conference titleholder.

Lawrenceville's perfect year was spoiled by Bridgeport in a North Egypt Conference game, 14-0. Egypt, running close at Lawrenceville's heels, topped Olney 25-13.

Title races were complicated by losses of Rockford, Guilford and Champaign.

Rockford Boylan slapped down Guilford 26-6 to dash the latter's hope for a clear claim on the Big Eight crown. Depending on out come of games tonight, Boylan, Guilford, and Rockford East are involved in a title deadlock.

Champaign, which had a share of the Big Twelve honors sewed up, was upset 33-20 by Urbana Springfield beat Bloomington 18-6 to grab a share of the league laurels.

Elgin Larkin pockered the Upstate Eight with a perfect season, clinaxed by beating Elgin 37-7.

Bellefonte West crept closer to southwestern supremacy by topping Granite City 21-6 while Alton stayed in contention with a win over Wood River.

Moline's perfect season reached its peak with a 27-7 triumph over Washington of Cedar Rapids, previously unbeaten. Moline, the Quad-City champion, emerged as the Mississippi Valley Conference titleholder.

Mount Vernon kept in trim for the Nov. 17 showdown with Carbondale for the conference laurels by beating Salem 32-0.

Pittsfield racked up its 19th game without defeat, 9-0, over Unity of Mendon. Newman of Sterling, the Illinois conference champion, stayed unbeaten 29-0. Rock Falls fell 14-7. Roubidouxville recorded a perfect season in a 30-6 reversal of Pontiac.

The Sangamon Valley conference tilted, Octavia, whipped Heyworth 20-7 for another perfect season. Octavia won its 24th straight game, 53-0, stopping Marquette of the same city.

DeQuion, certain of the Southwest Egyptian flag, defeated Pinckneyville 24-6. Danville Schlarman clinched the Wausau title by halting Waukegan 6-0.

Western Blasts Ind. State 28-7

TERRE HAUTE, Ind. AP — Western Illinois interrupted eight passes and recovered two fumbles in beating Indiana State 28-7 in football Saturday.

Two interceptions were returned for touchdowns and two led to field goals of 21 and 30 yards by 300-pound Brazilian Eduardo Magalhães.

Dean Kline scored Indiana State's lone touchdown on a 4-yard run in the second period.

ISU 20, MANKATO STATE 14

NORMAL, Ill. AP — Illinois State continued impressing the opposition Saturday by crushing Mankato State of Minnesota 20-14 in a non-conference football game. The winning Red Birds are 8-1 for the season.

The Birds were led in their winning effort by quarterback Jerry Kinnikin, who scored two touchdowns, kicked one field goal and three extra points. He also completed six of eight passes for 87 yards.

Quarterback Mike Dahlheim of Mankato State completed seven of 15 passes for 87 yards and ran for one touchdown in the losing effort.

Fort Marcy Wins International. Damascus Second

LAUREL, Md. AP — Fort Marcy staged a thrilling stretch duel with favored Damascus Saturday and won the $150,000 Washington, D.C. International at Laurel Race Track as American representatives ran 1-2 in the nine horse field.

Carrying the dark gray silks of Paul Mellon's Robbery Stables and with veteran Manuel Ycaza using his whip liberally, Fort Marcy stood off Damascus' desperate stretch bid and scored in the 1 1/2-mile event by the narrowest of margins.

Tobin Bronze from Australia was third and Canada's He's a Smoothie was fourth.

Back of the four leaders in order came Japan's Speed Symbol, Casaque Grise, France's 3-year-old filly, the highly regarded Ribocco, representing England but American owned; Venezuela's Chateaubriand, and In Command, the Irish representative.

Fort Marcy, generally acclaimed America's top grass course performer, covered the 1 1/2 miles in the comparatively slow time of 2 minutes, 27 seconds, in picking up first place money of $90,000.

The official chart showed his margin of victory a nose over Damascus, ridden by Bill Shoemaker. It was another 2 1/2 lengths back to Tobin Bronze, recently purchased for an estimated $384,000 by William Beltrant and Irving M. Litz of California.

With Damascus going off the odds-on choice of 33/1, Fort Marcy paid $18.40, $4.60 and $3.40. Damascus, making his first start on the grass against a field wise in the way of turf racing, returned $2.80 and $2.40.

QB Long Guides Ohio State To 17-15 Decision

COLUMBUS, Ohio AP — Quarterback Bill Long scrambled for two touchdowns Saturday, leading Ohio State to a 17-15 Big Ten football victory over suburban Wisconsin before 65,476 rain-soaked fans.

The crowd was the smallest since 1950 when an estimated 50,000 watched Michigan defeat the Bucks 3-0 in a blizzard.

Long, who got his first score on a 14-yard run in the second quarter, scampered four yards for the winning touchdown early in the fourth period.

It was the Buckeyes' first home victory of the season, and boosted their record to 4-3 overall and 3-2 in the conference.

Wisconsin, which has not tasted victory in Columbus since 1918 and has never won in Ohio Stadium, took its seventh setback against a single tie.

The Badgers appeared headed for the victory when they scored nine points in the third quarter to take a short-lived 15-10 lead.

But opening the final period, Long guided the Bucks 87 yards in seven plays, highlighted by a 4-yard bomb to split end Billy Anders.

Long, who completed only seven of 21 passes for 157 yards, but Anders, who had potted before the Wisconsin safety. But Badger Gary Reineck caught the Buckeye end from behind on Wisconsin's 25-yard line.

Moments later, a pass interference penalty gave the bucks a first down on the Wisconsin 40, and Long took it around left end on a keeper for the winning touchdown.

Wyoming Blasts New Mexico 42-6 To Stay Perfect

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. AP — Seventh-ranked Wyoming won its second straight Western Athletic Conference football title Saturday with a 42-6 stampede over New Mexico, with two of the Cowboys setting NCAA records.

Kicking specialist Jerry DePoyster booted four field goals from 33, 20, 40 and 19 yards and four extra points for a three-season total of 175 points. The old three-year scoring record for a kicker was 170 by Princeton's Charley Gogolak in 1963-65.

Vic Washington returned four punts for a season total 52 run-backs that bettered the record of 50 by Texas A&M's Marlon Flanagan in 1947.

Besides the record-breaking performances a highlight of the regionally televised game for unbeaten Wyoming was the quarterbacking of 175-pound spindleg-legged Paul Toscano, who passed for touchdowns of 11 yards to Hub Lindsey and 21 yards to tailback Jim Kline. Toscano also scored on a 35-yard run.

Wyoming's brutal defense continually spilled Lobo quarterbacks Rick Beiler and Terry Stone for losses and held New Mexico to minus 29 yards rushing. In the first period, the trio of Steve Adamson, Larry Nels and Jack Bowen nailed Stone in the end zone for a safety.

Wyoming is now 4-0 and has the nation's longest major college winning streak at 10 games.

Hannibal Trips Crimson By 19-12

Pirates' Offense Too Much For JHS

By BUFORD GREEN
Sports Editor

A strong running Hannibal, Mo. squad solved the mud and had no trouble with a leaky Jacksonville defense, as the Pirates rolled to a 19-12 season-ending victory over the disappointing Crimson, on the JHS field Friday evening.

Hannibal totaled over 300 yards, 262 rushing on the muddy turf, while the visitors threw up a tight defense that all but held the Crimson. The only two Jacksonville scores came on either lucky breaks or heads-up pass receptions.

The loss spelled only Jacksonville's third losing football record in 18 years, the last one coming in 1963. The Crimson finished with a 3-4-2 mark. Hannibal closed out at 6-4.

Jacksonville stubbornly battled the mud and the Hannibal defense most of the evening on the ground, picking up a meager 37 net yards. Trying only eight passes, JHS managed 71 yards via three completions by Duane Mounts, two for touchdowns.

Hannibal controlled the offensive drives in the game, as shown by their 16 first downs to only six by Jacksonville. The Pirates had the ball for 66 plays, 23 more than by JHS.

Defensive gems by Dick Scott and Terry Hammors stopped to first quarter drives by Hannibal, but Steve Gaudio had a punt blocked by Jim Tompkins late in the second period, giving Hannibal the ball on the Jacksonville 34 and it took the visitors only five plays to score.

Sparkling Running Trio
Hannibal's sparkling trio of runners, halfbacks Dan Thompson and Tom Murphy, and fullback Bruce Taylor, ate the Crimson up for big chunks all evening. Thompson ended up with 99 yards 16 tries; Murphy added 95 yards in only 11 attempts, and Taylor punched out 76 yards in 21 shots.

Taking over on the JHS 34, Hannibal moved to the five in four running plays before Taylor slanted over left tackle for the score, with 10:51 left in the half. Mike Hare legged the point after.

Taylor returned a punt to the Jacksonville 38 two series later, and Hannibal moved in to score again in eight plays, the Pirates punched to the four where fourth and four Murph broke right over center for the score, with 2:27 showing.

With time running out, Jacksonville scored on a fluke. Intended receiver Tom Phillips slipped on a Mounts pass, but John Mathews cut across to make the reception at the Hannibal 35 and raced to the three before being ran out of bounds.

Two running plays lost nine yards to the 12 before Mounts found Steve Gaudio on a leaping catch in the end zone with only 33 seconds left in the half.

JHS Stops Drive
Most of the third quarter was taken up by a 16-play Hannibal drive that moved from the Pirates' 30 to the Jacksonville 21 before Murphy dropped a sure TD pass wide open in the end zone on fourth down.

Early in the final period, Murphy broke loose for a 51-yard gallop before being bounced out by Otis Pitts at the ten. Two plays later Murphy broke the final yard and a 19-6 difference with 10:22 showing.

A 67-yard punt by Gaudio indirectly set up the final JHS score, as Hammors gobbled up a Hannibal fumble four plays later, at the Pirates' 28. Hare then intercepted a Mounts pass in the end zone, but a seven-yard punt gave Jacksonville the ball on the Hannibal 33.

From there it took six plays for JHS to score, again on a fluke. Mounts pass was deflected by two Hannibal defenders, but Phillips snared the loose ball for a seven-yard score with 2:16 to play.

An inside kick failed to get the ball back, and Hannibal ran out the final two minutes after winning a fourth-down, fake punt situation that gave the Pirates a first down at the Jacksonville 39 with only 20 seconds left.

Agree Players Block The View Of Grid Fans

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — A St. Louis police sergeant has sided with the complaint of Baltimore comptroller Hyman A. Pressman about pro football players standing and blocking the view of spectators.

At the Green Bay Packers-Baltimore Colts game last Sunday, Pressman vaulted the railing and plucked at the sleeve of Packer Coach Vince Lombardi, asking him to seat his players who were standing at their bench. Pressman said he got no satisfaction.

Friday, the comptroller made public a letter to him in which police Sgt. Leonard H. Ballman of St. Louis said, "I am glad to see that I am not the only one who bothered."

"I wrote to the National Football League office about that before the season started, as we have the same problem in St. Louis," said Ballman.

"They gave me the usual brushoff letter telling about the players' enthusiasm, and the lack of seating facilities for the players in stadiums built primarily for baseball, etc."

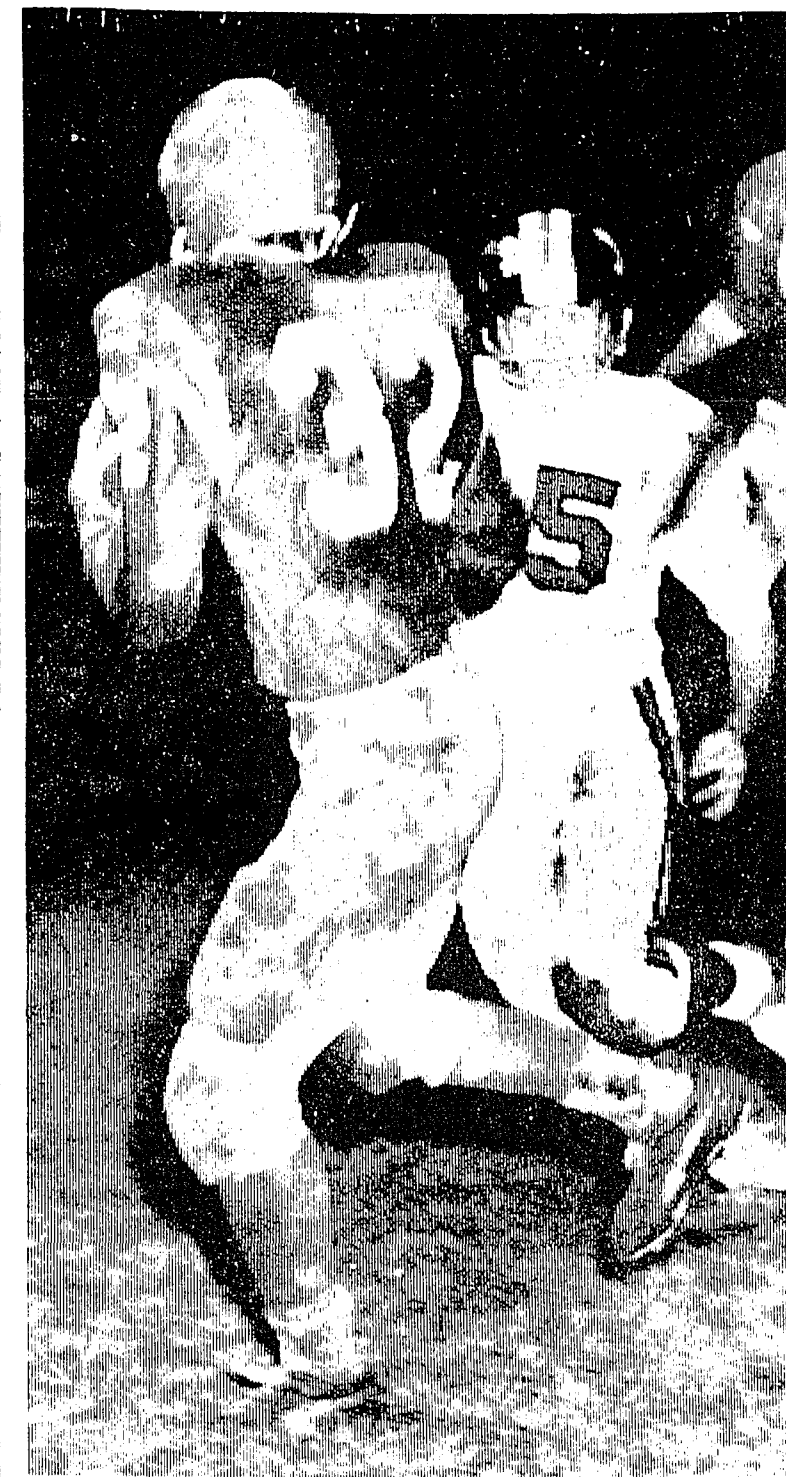

BOARD CONCLUDES NCAA-AAU STUDY

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — The special board attempting to solve the power struggle between the National Collegiate Athletic Association and the Amateur Athletic Union concluded its two-day closed sessions Friday.

"We have concluded our hearings and the board will deliberate and hopefully reach a decision by the end of the year," said Chairman Theodore H. Kheel, the New York attorney well known as a labor-management arbitrator.

Kheel said he preferred not to elaborate. The dispute involves bitter controversy over control of track and field by the AAU, the NCAA and its affiliate, the U.S. Track and Field Federation.

The board, named by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, initiated hearings in 1963.

Rockets Explode In Second Period

PETERSBURG — Trailing for the first time this season, Routt struck for 19 points in the second quarter and went on to post an easy 33-6 victory over Porta, here Friday night, allowing the Rockets to finish with a perfect 9-0 season.

The victory, Routt's 13th straight over two seasons, gives the Rockets their first 11-man undefeated record since 1933, and first unbeaten mark since the 7-0, eight-man season of 1951.

Routt had its four-game unscored on mark shattered on the second play from scrimmage in the game, as Port's Ed Kelley galloped 60 yards off tackle for a score that put the Rockets into a 6-0, the first time the Rockets had trailed all season.

Regaining their poise, the Rockets quickly struck back and by halftime had gained command. Early in the second frame junior quarterback Loyd Krumlauf, who missed all of the middle and a 19-6 halftime spread.

After a scoreless third period, Routt added the difference. Halfback Danny Welsh slashed one yard up the middle for a score, with Kaufmann running the point after.

Lambert finished the evening's scoring with a two-yard carry over center and Welsh ran the PAT. Lambert set up the score with a 60-yard gallop.

Porta never got closer than the Routt 20 after their opening score, until late in the final 12 minutes.

Lambert, a strong Little All-State candidate, rolled up 163 yards rushing, pushing him over the 1,000 mark on the campaign. Welsh added 66 rushing yards.

Porta ran up 267 yards on the ground and Krumlauf completed four of seven passes for 58 yards, with one interception.

NHL Expansion Proves To Be Early Success

NEW YORK (AP) — Citing the seven victories and one tie by West Division teams against those in the established East Division, president Clarence Campbell of the National Hockey League said Friday "the performances of the new teams have been m. h superior to what was expected."

Campbell also said he was pleased with the overall home attendance figures of the six new clubs during the first month of expansion. The season started Oct. 11.

"There are a couple of soft ones," Campbell noted, "but their problems will be ironed out."

Campbell disclosed that the average home attendance of West Division teams through Oct. 31 was 6,120 with a high of 11,200 for the Minnesota North Stars and a low of 3,700 for Oakland, which recently changed its team's name from the Golden Seals.

St. Louis averaged 6,655, Pittsburgh 5,606, Philadelphia 5,494 and Los Angeles 4,649 during that time.

In recent seasons, the league which encompassed only teams in Montreal, Toronto, Boston, New York, Chicago and Detroit, drew between 90 to 95 per cent of capacity.

Ford Raps LBJ For Remark On College Football

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Gerald R. Ford, R-Mich., who was a star center on the University of Michigan football team, took sharp issue Friday with President Johnson's tongue in cheek remark that football hardly makes the United States look peace-loving.

Ford was a star of Michigan's undefeated national football championship teams of 1950 and 1956. He now is Republican leader of the House.

"I'm sure millions of Americans will share my shocked reaction to President Johnson's reported remarks yesterday to Crown Prince and Princess Vong Savang of neutralist Laos," Ford said in a statement.

"I find it difficult to believe that the President of the United States would demean college football," Ford said.

Johnson jokingly told the royal visitors, who are to see the Stanford-California game Nov. 18, "College football is a great spectacle, but I am not sure that it gives an accurate picture of America."

He added "to see some of our best-educated boys spending an afternoon knocking each other down—while thousands cheer them on—hardly gives a picture of a peace-loving nation."

"Personally I am glad that thousands of fine young Americans can spend this Saturday afternoon 'knocking each other down' in a spirit of clean sportsmanship and keen competition instead of assaulting Pentagon soldiers or policemen with 'peace' placards and filthy words," Ford said.

"I also pray for the safe homcoming of thousands more from Vietnam where, as on the football fields of the nation, this generation is indeed giving 'an accurate picture of America' that is neither physically flabby nor spiritually soft."

TALED PICKED BOSOX
Guests at last winter's hot stove league banquet here must have thought Ted Williams was kidding. He picked the Boston Red Sox to win the 1967 American League pennant.

It was something the fans here wanted to hear, since the Sox star left fielder, Carl Yastrzemski, began his organizational baseball career here as a shortstop in 1959. Yaz hit .377 that season to lead the Carolina League in hitting.

At Indiana

Home-Grown Club

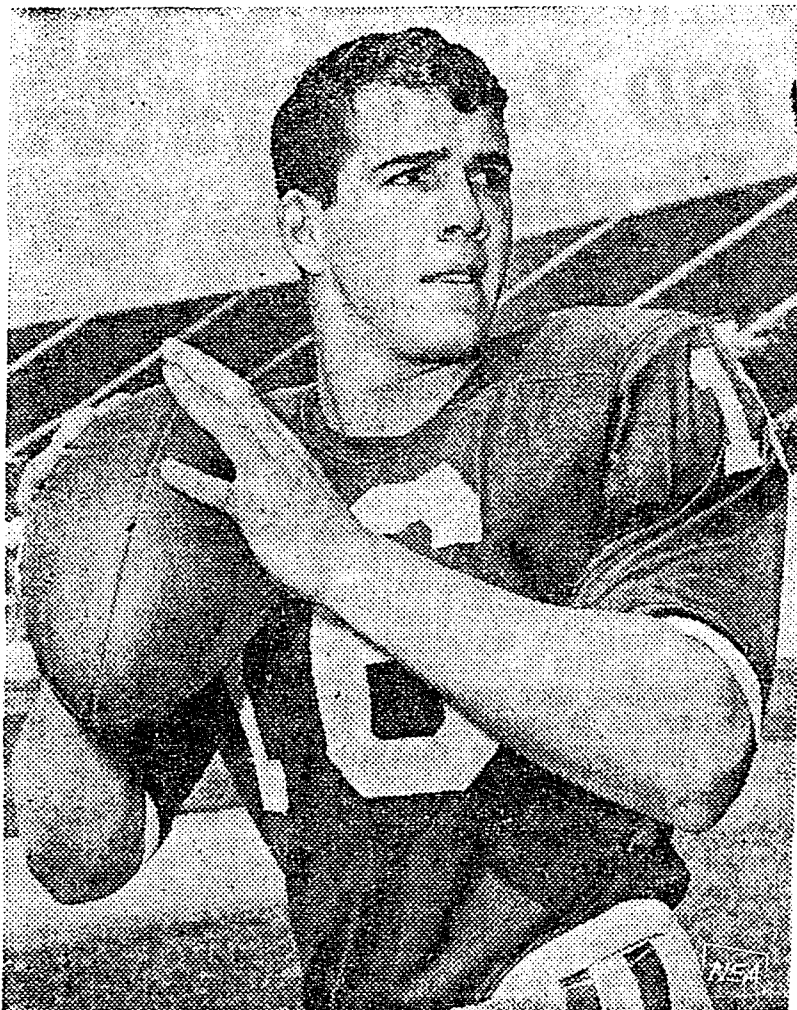

(Last of Two Parts.)
BLOOMINGTON, Ind. — Pont, who has a convincing dynamic manner, concentrated on Illinois and Ohio, and began to look at state athletes, too. Isenbarger is from Muncie and Butcher from Bloomington. The latter is a home-grown rarity. Only two local boys in the last 20 years started for Indiana.

Each was a highly-sought high school star. In years past, Gonso probably would have gone to Michigan State. Isenbarger to Notre Dame and Butcher, well, to almost any other big-time midwestern football school. But Indiana, and coach John Pont, was their first choice.

Pont recruited for "winners." "I was looking for the kind of boy who was stable and talented and wanted a challenge," said Pont. "I laid it right on the line. I told them Indiana had never won, but that they could help us start something new at Indiana."

Previously, Indiana recruiting philosophy had been to scour the entire country for athletes, practically neglecting Indiana prep products.

"Used to be," said one Hoosier fan, "that we'd get guys from Pennsylvania because that was a magic name in college football recruiting. It didn't seem to matter that they were third-stringers in high school."

Harry Gonso

Against Wisconsin, Isenbarger was back to kick in the end zone. "One of the players on the sidelines asked me if he was going to kick or run," said Pont. "I told him I had no idea. Every play is a surprise around here. That's the way I like it."

Hoosier fans seem to fancy it, too. The Bloomington Herald-Telegram ran a contest to name the current team. Submissions included: "Cardiac Kids," "Johnny's Come-Lately," "Shock Troops" and "Minute Men."

Another was "Pont's Unbeaten Rough Daring Unique Eleven." The first letter of each word spells Purdue. It was summarily disqualified.

Indians Missing One Letterman On Cage Outfit

MEREDOSIA — Missing only one letterman, the Meredosia Indians will be expected to boost last season's dismal 3-21 record. Only starter Jay Surratt was lost to graduation.

Six lettermen are back for duty. They are seniors Harvey Fueling, 5-9, 5-10 Reggie Six and 5-11 Frank Fanshier and juniors Gary Ham, 5-10, 6-2 Gary Staake and 5-10 Bruce Dawson.

Other varsity hopefuls include 6-0 John Caldwell and 6-2 Steve Kunzeman of the senior class; juniors Corky Lemmon, 6-0, 5-9 Jack Howell and 5-9 Rodger Hannel, and 5-9 sophomore Ron Summers.

FRIEND ELECTED

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Bob Friend won 197 major league baseball games as a pitcher. He's 1-0 as a politician.

But he missed that bullpen help. Friend was elected Allegheny County controller in Tuesday's election, upsetting county Democratic chairman James W. Knox, who had held the office for 20 years.

"It's quite a thrill, being the first time out," said Friend, whose last campaign in Pittsburgh was controlling enemy batters for 15 seasons with the Pirates.

Comets Expect Another Winning Cage Campaign

CHANDLERVILLE — Despite the loss of four key lettermen, this year's Chandlerville basketball squad may well be another in the recent tradition of winning Comet outfits.

Back from last year's 16-10 outfit are three lettermen, all part-time starters last time around. A promising group of newcomers gives promise to the Chandlerville season. Last year Chandlerville was the consolation champion in the Bears-town Tournament and took third in the PMSC tourney.

In looking ahead to the season coach Bob Gregurich, starting his fifth season with the Comets, says, "We may not be as fast as we have been, but we will have a little more size than usual for Chandlerville."

"It appears that the PMSC is better balanced than usual with many teams having a shot at perennially tough Triopia. Pride and enthusiasm have been evident at our practices and if it carries over into the season we should hold our own. I feel we have more depth than usual with a fine group of sophomores."

The three lettermen back are 6-1 Ken Barrett, 5-10 Mike Eilers and 6-1 David Herst, all seniors. Gregurich lists 5-10 junior Edean Leinberger and 5-10 senior Terry Garner as the other two probable starters.

Other varsity hopefuls include 5-8 Bill Leinberger and 5-10 Rick Pherigo, seniors; 5-10 junior Bud Dietsh; and 5-10 Dennis Booker, 6-0 Gary Gabehart, 6-0 Barry Oest and 5-8 Allen Pherigo, all sophomores.

Let's Go Birding

The Robin In The Rain

By Emma Mae Leonhard

It was time for the bird's breakfast, but the sun was unable to tell them so. It was blacked out by heavy clouds which had already emptied three inches of rain upon the birds' dining tables.

The wet world was empty of bird song or activity. So were the Sieboldi Crab branches bent down by its tiny red apples, the favorite fruit of the Robins.

Intermission

For a short intermission, a rift appeared in the clouds. A slit of light glimmered through the top of the Sieboldi Crab, revealing the shining leaves, the tiny ruby apples, and a disgruntled Robin whose gray back had merged with the gray rain. The sheet of falling rain changed its form; tall raindrops spanked the tree, its fruits, and its lone prospective diner. A large glistening drop of water clung to the bottom of each little crabapple.

Soon the Robin moved his feathers and looked sulkily and silently over his dining table. Was everything ready? It seemed so. The rain had stopped.

Tempting Fruit

The tempting apples still hung before his eyes. His white-spectacled eyes revealed an interest.

He shook his entire body; his white tail-tips sparkled; the brick-red of his breast rivalled the red of the apples. Then he spread his dripping wings, thrashed them up and down, and gave himself a shower bath. Nature was his towel.

His spirit renewed, his appetite sharpened, he seized a tiny fruit and swallowed it whole. His attack scattered the drops clinging to the other apples on the branch. He ate another apple and then another one.

Now he needed a drink of water. Without hesitation he sipped a drop of water clinging to an apple; he drank of the water held in some of the leaves. At last satisfied, he gave himself one more shake and flew out into the garden to begin his daily explorations.

LASER TRACKS SATELLITES

LAS CRUCES, N.M. (AP)—Scientists are using the intense light of a laser to help the National Aeronautics and Space Administration determine the exact orbits of satellites.

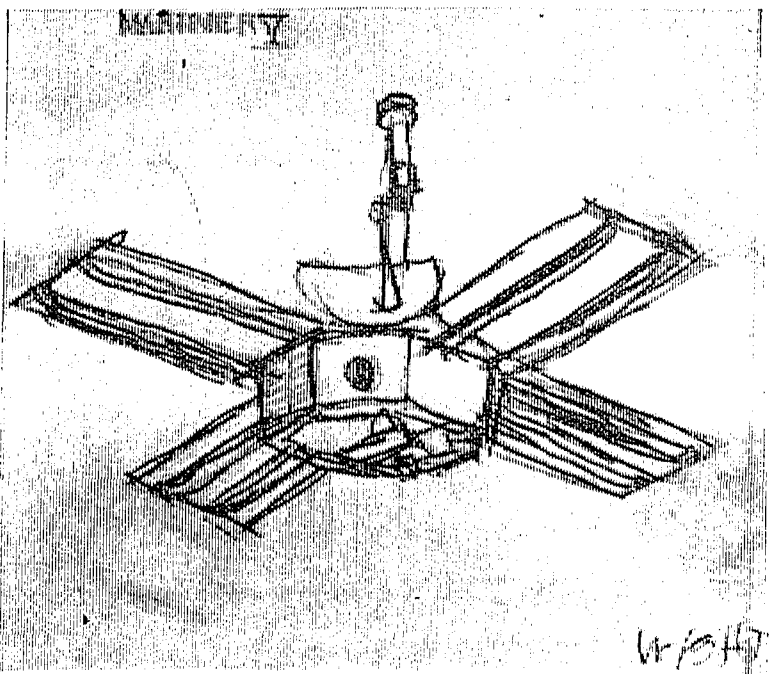

The beam of the laser (which stands for light amplification by stimulated emission of radiation) is projected to the satellite overhead and is reflected by the satellite to a receiver at the station.

By measuring the time it takes the beam, traveling at 186,000 miles per second, to reach the satellite and return, the distance to the orbiting body can be determined.

New Job For Old Craft

By Walter B. Hendrickson, Jr.

The fly-by of Venus which Mariner V, shown above, made this past October 16, was a new mission for an old spacecraft. Mariner V had originally been designed as a Mars probe, but Mariner IV sent back such excellent reports that a second Mars mission was cancelled. Instead, Mariner V was redesigned for a fly-by of Venus.

This redesign caused a number of problems especially for Ryan Electronic and Space Systems, the manufacturers of the solar cells which power the spacecraft. Since Mariner V would be traveling toward the sun, instead of away from it, fewer solar cells would be needed and these would have to be protected against greater heat. With these modifications Mariner V has about half as many solar cells as Mariner IV, 17,640 compared to 28,224. They cover only 43.6 square feet instead of the 70 square feet needed for the Mars mission. However, the support frame for the solar cells was left the same size. This made it easier to control the heat of the cells by placing them further from the spacecraft.

A new non-face facing was added which can withstand up to 340 degrees F. This structure was made of fiberglass cloth soaked with epoxy resin, rather than just an epoxy coating on aluminum. The fiberglass cloth is only .002 inch thick, and is laid on an aluminum foil panel .005-inch thick. These thin fiberglass and aluminum facings are stiffened by gluing to corrugated aluminum. This backing is pierced by lightning holes, and it in turn is glued to two aluminum spars, which are hinged to the spacecraft.

Before delivering these panels to NASA (National Aeronautics and Space Administration), Ryan tested them to make sure they would survive the high temperatures near Venus. The tests included thermal vacuum and thermal shock tests, and a series of mechanical vibration and electrical function tests at Jet Propulsion Laboratories, the NASA center managing the Mariner program. Mariner V passed all these tests with flying colors.

Ryan has built nearly 300 solar panel supports for both NASA and the Department of Defense over the past seven years.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Arabic numerals, the ones we use today, include the symbol zero which was adopted by Moslem mathematicians from Indian numerals, says The World Almanac. Although the concept of zero is an apparently small thing, it was unknown to the Romans and is indispensable to higher mathematics. If you doubt this, try dividing MCXXVI by LXI!

Special Thanksgiving

By John Rankin

Part 2: Good Memories
Hal wakes up and remembers it is Thanksgiving, but he sees the heavy snowfall and fears the planned trip to town can't be made. Disappointed, he just lies there and thinks of other happier Thanksgivings when they had all gathered around the table for a delicious Thanksgiving feast.

Later, before a glowing fire in the parlor, the kids had joined hands and circled the room in step to the music played by Gramps on his violin with Granddad at the piano. This was followed by group singing with everybody joining in, and then a Thanksgiving prayer led by one of the grown-ups.

But nothing had been quite the same without Grandma. Folks didn't visit much anymore, it seemed, and for one reason or another the true meaning of Thanksgiving had become lost on just about everybody. Not for a long time had Hal heard Gramps play his violin.

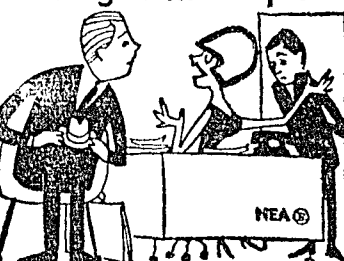

Bacon Gets Hal Up

It was the tantalizing odor of bacon sizzling over a hot fire that prompted Hal to leave his warm bed and hurry out to the next room. Gramps was breaking eggs into a hot frying pan on a wood stove in the middle of the floor. Somehow the lines in his weathered face and his shock of gray hair made him look older than his years.

"Thank you'd be showing up about now, Son," he said with a good-humored glint in his eye. "Nothing like the scent of bacon sizzling over a hot fire to get a boy out of bed on a cold morning."

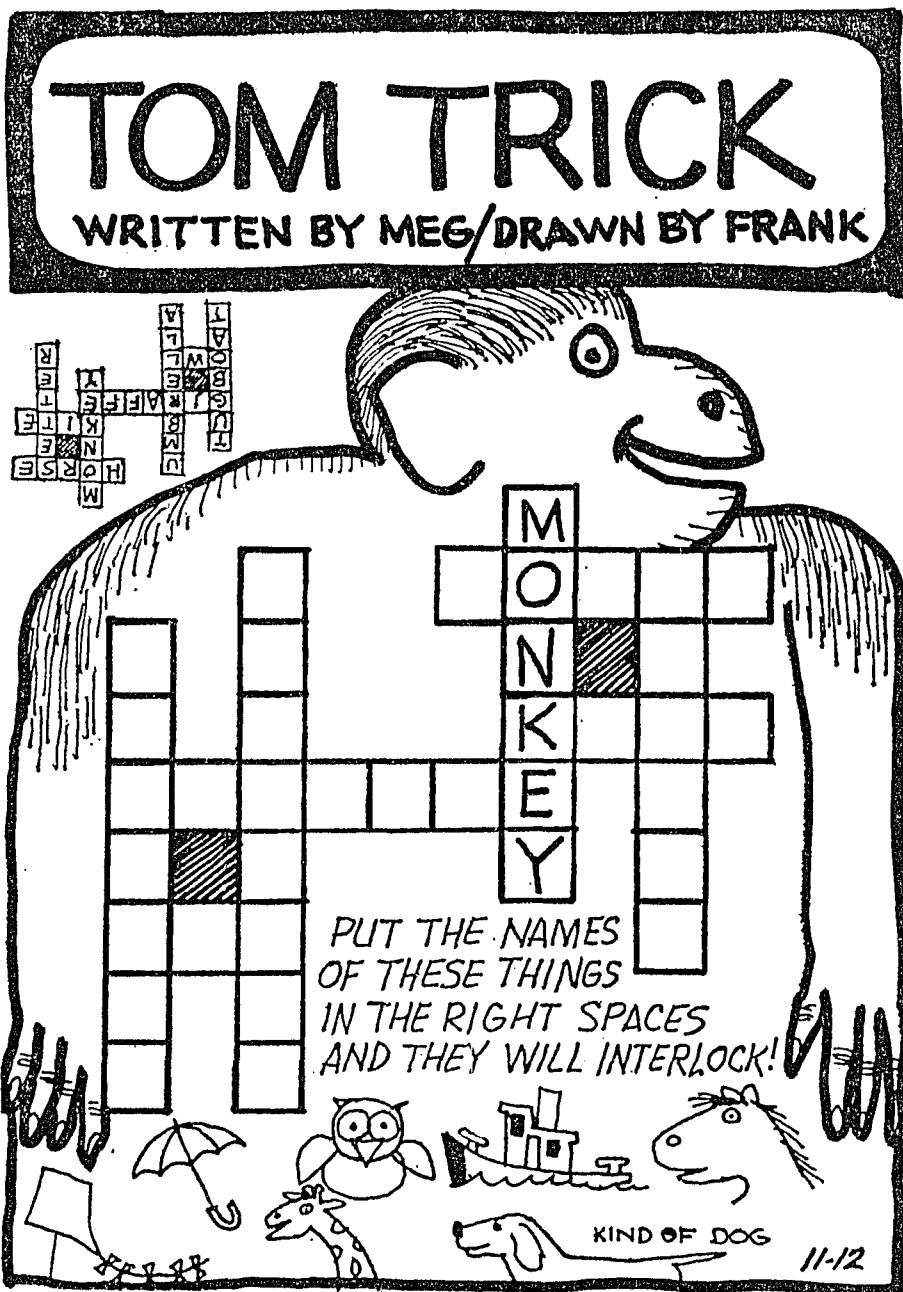

With a boyish grin on his face Hal snatched a slice of bacon

Jacksonville Displays Its Flags In Large Vets Day Observance

Jacksonville's citizens joined in celebrating what Mayor Byron Holkenbrink called "the best Veteran's Day ever" yesterday.

The city's population began displaying the National Ensign with the advent of sunrise to honor the more than two million American fighting men serving around the world.

"I speak for the people of Jacksonville," Mayor Holkenbrink said early Saturday morning. "When I express my gratitude to our servicemen, we are proud of the job they're doing all over the globe, and especially proud of our young men and women from Jacksonville and the surrounding area who wear and have worn the uniform for our country."

The mayor spent the early part of Saturday morning placing flags around the Jacksonville square from a boom truck.

"Our citizens, veterans organizations, the Chamber of Commerce and the Jacksonville Journal-Courier are to be commended for the part they are taking in making this a most meaningful and outstanding Veterans Day," the Mayor said.

While demonstrations of protest against the Vietnam war echoed in the streets of a number of U.S. cities, Jacksonville filled its main streets with crowds to watch the annual Veterans Day parade in honor of America's warriors, past and present. Flags draped Jacksonville's boulevards.
The parade attracted a large crowd in the downtown area. The line of march led to ceremonies in central park.

VFW Quartermaster Tom Farrell served as master of ceremonies for the program and Rev. Ken Venvertloh served as Chaplain. Cy McCurley was parade marshal.

John Altortier, a Navy pilot during World War II, was scheduled to speak but did not appear in Jacksonville because of transportation difficulties from Peoria.

Amvets State Commander John Beadles was the featured speaker along with Mayor Holkenbrink. Delegates from all veterans organizations were on hand for the ceremonies in the park.

After the parade, American Legion Post 279 served fish sandwiches and the Amvets served ham and beans to members and families who marched in the parade.

Offer Observations
"I think all Americans should observe Veterans Day," Marcella Fletcher of 329 S. Main St. said. "We have had many brothers and fathers who have fought and died in the service of our country and I think we should so honor them."

"Many of our young men are fighting in Vietnam, from colleges, students. We can offer this encouragement to them, at least."

Military service is a tradition in Miss Fletcher's family. Her father served in the Philippines during the Spanish-American conflict. Her brother, William Wendell Fletcher, lost his life at Guadalcanal during World War II.

Joe Garrett of 918 N. East St. raised the flag for the Post Office early Saturday. It flew at half-mast until noon in honor of American servicemen who paid the highest price in service of their country.

Garrett, a veteran of World War II who served in Trinidad and the British West Indies, said: "I'm by all means proud of our servicemen. Anybody who's offering his life for his country deserves a great deal of credit. I've got to be proud of him."

Mr. Garrett expressed special pride in U.S. servicemen in Vietnam. "They're doing a great job," he said. "They're getting the job done." Garrett served in the Army.

Astro-Sonic Stereo by Magnavox...

surpasses all other achievements in the re-creation of sound!

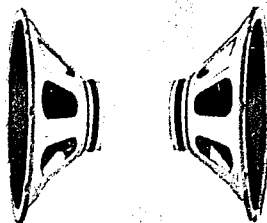

Advanced Solid-State Radio—enables you to “reach out” and receive more Stereo FM and Monaural FM/AM stations than ever before possible; with thrilling fidelity that will amaze you. It also sets an entirely new standard of lasting reliability!

100-Watts Music Power—provides a vast reservoir of undistorted power—so essential to high fidelity. This should not be confused with today’s meaningless claims of “peak power” which does not represent usable power. To reproduce true bass tones (40 cycles) requires a thousand times as much power as do mid-range tones, for your hearing is a thousand times more responsive at 3,000 cycles. Witness how a single trumpet (mid-range tones) pierces clearly through the combined efforts of 90 to 100 musicians in a symphony orchestra.

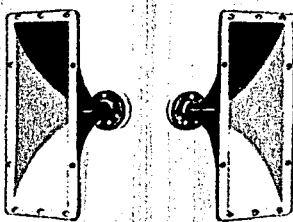

Two Super-Sonic 15" Bass Woofers—were developed to best utilize the tremendous power of the Astro-Sonic Amplifiers. With a combined magnet weight of 48 ounces, they are capable of reproducing distinctive low-frequency bass without distortion. Magnavox bass woofers give true bass tone instead of a “rumble” which merely obliterates the rest of the musical range—masking the definition of instruments—and, in general, detracting from the full beauty of the music.

Two 1,000 cycle Exponential Treble Horns shown below—one for each stereo channel—not only have the equivalent acoustical efficiency of 20 cone speakers . . . but re-create even the most difficult percussion instrument tones with a purity and clarity unattainable by any other means.

The exclusive Micromatic Record Player—exceeds all other players in accuracy and reliability. Jam-proof and fool-proof, it eliminates pitch distortions such as “rumble”, “wow” and “flutter”! Turntable speed is accurate as an electric clock. The high compliance pick-up tracks and traces perfectly at a mere 1/10th ounce touch—banishes discernible record and diamond stylus wear. Now your records can last a lifetime!

Superb solid-state 4-Track Stereo Tape Recorder—model KO-885, is optionally available as a drop-in unit for most Magnavox Astro-Sonic Radio-Phonographs. It not only matches the perfection of the other Astro-Sonic components, but also incorporates the most complete provisions for outstanding Stereo plus Monaural recording and playback through the magnificent Astro-Sonic audio system. Your Magnavox dealer will be happy to give you complete details.

Before you buy any Stereo—you owe it to yourself to hear an Astro-Sonic by Magnavox. We cordially invite you to come in and prove to yourself that it truly fulfills the claim of concert hall realism!
